Francisco X. Alarcón

1954 – 2016

Los Angeles born Chicano poet Francisco Xavier Alarcón died of stomach cancer at his Davis home on January 15, 2016. His death ended a prolific career as a bilingual poet, children’s author and professor at UC Davis. Alarcón, once a finalist for California poet laureate, was known for his poetry about immigrants, love and the indigenous languages and traditions of Mexico. Alarcón’s more than 20 published books include sonnets, works of free verse and textbooks. Poetry was his way of life. Alarcón was proficiently bilingual – a lyricist in both English and Spanish who translated his own verse. He also spoke French, Portuguese, and Nahuatl. Alarcón taught in the Spanish department at UC Davis. He is considered a pioneer of bilingual children’s literature calling those books “the best thing I’ve done in my life.” Alarcón presented at several CABE Conferences in the past where he was always happy to sign his books and chat with CABE participants.

Francisco Alarcón saw life as a poem – a single, continuous verse. “He said he would never use a period until he died,” said his sister. Each day added a line or stanza; only death would end it, her brother said. The family plans to put a period on his tombstone his sister said. Alarcón is survived by his partner, Javier Pinzón; his mother, Consuelo Vargas de Alarcón; two sisters, Esthela Alarcón and Berta Olivia Alarcón; four brothers, Juan Antonio, José Arturo, Jesús Carlos and Josue Samuel Alarcón; and nine nieces and nephews.

Mary-Louise Newling, Ed.D.

Just a few weeks prior to the CABE 2016 conference, a dear friend and colleague of CABE, Dr. Mary Louise Newling, unexpectedly passed away. Mary Lou was a lifetime advocate and inspirational model for students of diverse backgrounds and a person with a wonderfully sarcastic sense of humor. She was one who could make you both think and laugh at deep levels. We are still shaken by her passing.

Originally from the West Indies, Mary-Louise was known as a true educational leader throughout the state of California. She wore many hats in the field of education from teacher, to principal, to district and county office administrator, to university professor, to student and scholar. Her love of and belief in students of diverse backgrounds, experiences and special needs made her stand out as an educator that could truly make a difference. This was evident in her work in Oakland, San Francisco, San Bernardino, and most recently in the Mt. Diablo School District. Mary-Louise came to Mt. Diablo and became principal of Meadow Homes Elementary School where she led the school to become a California Turnaround Arts school and implemented turnaround strategies, powerful pedagogy, and community engagement. Mary-Louise particularly connected with culturally and linguistically diverse students and advocated daily for English Learners, biliteracy students, African American students, and marginalized students. It made a difference. Meadow Homes Elementary school exceeded expectations and is one of the recipients of CABE’s Seal of Excellence School awards this year. Mary Louise was also recently named ACSA Principal of the Year and was promoted to Assistant Superintendent in the Mt. Diablo school district in 2015.

Mary Louise and her wife, Maria Cardenas, created a dynamic duo—whether in their personal or professional lives, they worked side by side to make the world a better place for the students and families they served.

In memory of mary-louise newling

truthspeaker you never hesitated to follow the leader’s path
you begin a new odyssey now and like a mare’s tail flung across the night sky
afire with brilliant passion still scribe secret reflections to guide our journeys
you will shine bright always openhearted and generous

a textured harvest
of night blooming keepsakes
original forever your soul
and courage illuminate our memories
and nourish our spirits
we will not let you go

STAY CONNECTED WITH CABE: www.bilingualeducation.org
General Policy
Welcome to CABE 2016! The Planning Committee, Board of Directors, Staff, and Conference Sponsors have made every effort to make your attendance comfortable and rewarding. In order to ensure that the conference runs smoothly, please observe the following guidelines:

- Conference Registration Name Badges must be worn at all times to gain admission to conference sessions and activities including the Exhibit/Career Fair Hall.
- As a courtesy to presenters and audiences, please plan on arriving on time and staying for the full session. Be sure to turn off all cellular phones while inside workshops and general sessions.
- Smoking is not allowed indoors at any of the conference facilities.
- If a sign is posted stating “Session is Full,” for the safety of all, please do not enter that session.
- If you need assistance or have questions, please contact any member of the planning committee or staff. We will do all we can to make your conference enjoyable.
- The Exhibit Hall and some workshop sessions will require you to “tap” your name badge upon entry at the CABE 2016 “Tap N Go” stands.

Registration Area—Yosemite and Grand Ballroom Foyers—Ballroom Level

- If you are Pre-registered for the conference and received your name badge and tickets in the mail, you may pick up your tote bag and name badge holder in the Grand Ballroom Foyer.
- If you did not receive your name badge and tickets in the mail or you are registering on site, please proceed to the CABE Registration Area located in the Yosemite Foyer (on the Ballroom level).
- All participants are required to be registered and to display their registration badges for admittance to all conference sessions, activities and exhibits.

CABE Membership
Make sure your membership is up to date! Membership entitles you to reduced registration fees, entrance to the Membership Reception on March 23, 2016 in the Continental Ballroom. Discounts are also available on CABE publications and merchandise throughout the year. As a member, you may also select to receive Language Magazine at a discounted rate and receive updates on current legislation and issues concerning bilingual education and the education of English Learners. Wear your CABE member button proudly!

CABE 2016 Conference Registration Badges
- Remember to bring your Conference Badge if you received yours in the mail prior to the conference.
- Name badges must be worn for admittance to all conference events, workshops and exhibits.
- Requests for replacement of badges and event tickets, for any reason, prior to or during the conference will be charged at the original full price of the registration. This policy will be strictly enforced – no exceptions will be made.
- CABE 2016 name badges contain your contact information electronically so they may be scanned by exhibitors and used at all “Tap-n-Go” entry stations.

University Credit through Loyola Marymount University
You can earn university credit while participating at CABE 2016. For university credit requirements and registration information, please go to the University Credit booth in the Yosemite Foyer sponsored by Loyola Marymount University. Registration and payment of fees can be made on-site at the University Credit booth.

Note: Participants must register for university credit prior to attending any workshops or institutes that will be utilized to earn university credit.
Parent Orientation/ Support
Conferences can be a perplexing experience for first timers. The Rosalia Salinas Parent Resource Center is located in the Plaza A Meeting Room on the lobby level where experienced conference participants will be available to assist parents in using the program and making choices that best meet their needs. See the conference program for specific times of orientations and other activities.

Special Events
Tickets were available for advance purchase for the various luncheons, banquets, and receptions. Tickets may still be purchased on-site; however, due to limited capacity, tickets for all events may not be available. Please inquire in the registration area.

Interpretation
Interpretation in Spanish and other languages requested during registration is provided at all General Sessions and Luncheons and selected featured speaker sessions listed in the program. Interpretation headsets are available for check-out prior to entering the events. A form of identification, (e.g. a driver’s license) is necessary to check-out equipment. Workshops presented in languages other than English are noted in the workshop descriptions.

School Site Visits
Visits to a variety of exemplary bilingual education and other programs for English Learners will be available on Wednesday, March 23, 2016. Participants must be pre-registered and check-in at the Yosemite C Room (Ballroom Level) by 7:30 a.m. After checking in, buses will depart from Taylor Street Exit of the Hilton Union Square Lobby and return by 2:00 p.m. You must be pre-registered to participate.

University Site Visits
Parent visits to local universities are offered on Wednesday, March 23, 2016 at 9:00 a.m. Participants must pre-register and check in at the Yosemite C Room (Ballroom Level) by 9:00 a.m. After checking in, buses will depart from Taylor Street Exit of the Hilton Union Square Lobby and return by 2:00 p.m. You must be pre-registered to participate.

Lost and Found
Lost and found items should be taken to the CABE Show Office located in the California Room. The Lost and Found will only be open during regular conference hours. If you have lost an item, you may also check with the Hilton Union Square Front Desk and Security Office.

Exhibits/Career Fair
Exhibitors representing all areas of Bilingual/English Learner Education and education in general will be in attendance giving you the opportunity to review and purchase the latest in education materials, publications, and support materials. Career Fair Exhibitors provide you the opportunity to meet with potential employers and recruiters from throughout California and out of state.

The Exhibit and Career Fair is located in the Grand Ballroom Exhibit Hall and will be open during the following hours:

- Wednesday, March 23, 2016
  - 12:00 pm - 4:00 pm
  - 6:00 pm-7:30 pm—Special Night at the Exhibits

- Thursday, March 24, 2016
  - 9:00 am - 5:30 pm

- Friday, March 25, 2016
  - 9:00 am - 5:30 pm
Dear CABE 2016 Attendees:

¡Bienvenidos, 欢迎光临, وELCOME to CABE 2016! I want to personally welcome you to San Francisco, my adopted city, where I came as a young bilingual special education teacher from Venezuela over 20 years ago. San Francisco offered me, and continues to offer all who reside in and visit this magnificent city, a richly diverse community that celebrates the beauty of each person's uniqueness—culturally, linguistically, socially, artistically, and of course academically through our fine schools, community colleges and universities. San Francisco is the Pacific gateway to the nation, and as our CABE 2016 states, it symbolizes a community bridging multiple worlds for local and global success.

What does CABE Conference mean to you? Powerful professional development? The best conference on English Learner and biliteracy programs? A time to celebrate the success of our schools, educators, and partners? A place to come and feel inspired and surrounded by like-minded educators with a passion for biliteracy? A setting where you feel safe to speak about issues of equity and inequity in our schools? An opportunity to learn, share and feel part of an incredible familia? For me, CABE is all that, plus more!

CABE has legacy of commitment, dedication, perseverance, advocacy, teaching, leading, and transforming — all in the name of the diverse children, families, and educators we represent and serve. We do that while being guided by our strategic plan—the CABE Compass—which is evolving into our CABE GPS (Guiding Performance Systems) as we move forward, focus, adjust routes, overcome challenges, and create new pathways for English Learner student success.

This is CABE's 41st annual conference and we can see and feel the presence of the innovative educators, students, and leaders who had the vision over four decades ago to stand up to the inequity and injustice in our schools and to unite together to struggle, create, and push aside unfair policies and practices. After 18 years under the limitations of Proposition 227, we will have the opportunity in November at the ballot box to open the pathway to multilingualism in our schools through the Lara EdGE Initiative (Education in a Global Economy). The EdGE Initiative will provide all students with the opportunity to learn more than one language, it will change some of the limiting language of proposition 227, and create pathways for our students towards success in the global economy. CABE supports this vision and invites you to do the same as well! Throughout the conference you will hear more about the EdGE ballot measure and what you can do to make a difference.

Join me, the CABE Board of Directors, our amazing CABE staff, and the over 4000 participants at CABE 2016 in creating, crossing over, and moving forward on the bridge of local and global success. Again, welcome to San Francisco!

Con mucho respeto y cariño,

Karling Aguilera-Fort
CABE President
Dear CABE Familia:

On behalf of our CABE Team, welcome to CABE 2016—our 41st annual conference! It is an honor to come together as a community once again—educators, parents, leaders, students, and community members—to celebrate and work towards the success of our biliteracy and English Learner programs! CABE 2016 has so much to offer, and we are so glad you are here with us!

The theme for CABE 2016 is Bridging Multiple Worlds for Local and Global Success. Where better than the beautiful city of San Francisco to celebrate this vision? We welcome you to the City by the Bay—a community extremely rich in the cultural and linguistic diversity of our students, families and the educators who serve them. You will find that we are celebrating that beautiful tapestry of diversity in many ways at CABE 2016 from our student artwork and entertainment to the wide variety of programmatic and professional development offerings to holding our conference in the heart of the city where you can feel the steady heart beat of this uniquely dynamic community.

It’s an invigorating time to be attending CABE and to be collaborating together in support of the CABE vision of Biliteracy, Educational Equity and 21st Century Success for All. We see continued progress towards promoting this vision through the new ELA/ELD Framework and textbook adoption process that clearly and directly supports biliteracy programs. We are in the midst of understanding the new federal Every Students Succeeds Act (ESSA) of 2015 and are working to understand how the needs of our English Learners are, and are not, addressed and what we can do to ensure that all students have access to an enriched and equitable education. We are following our own state’s educational policy and working hard to advocate for the needs of English Learners through the LCAP and the new state accountability system. We are also beginning to gear up for the November 2016 elections where Senator Ricardo Lara’s EdGE Initiative will be placed on the ballot giving us the opportunity to repeal and amend parts of Proposition 227 and open the doors for multilingual education for all students. The pendulum is swinging back. We have a call to action to be ready to seize this opportunity and to show how effective our bilingual and biliteracy programs are!

There are a few things I would like to ask you as you embark on these powerful four days:

- Become a CABE member and join an amazing network of educators;
- Go to the CABE Facebook page and LIKE our page—you will see photos and updates from this week’s conference and keep up to date on the latest news and resources;
- Visit the Exhibit Hall each day and show our exhibitors that we appreciate their commitment towards providing linguistically and culturally appropriate materials;
- Be attuned at how you can make your voice heard through Legislative Action—what happens in Sacramento impacts you in the classroom and in your community.
- Stay connected—with each other and with CABE—we make a powerful team!
- Download the CABE app from the APP Store on your device or the conference scheduler at www.cabe2016.sched.org

Again, welcome to CABE 2016! I look forward to spending this week with you!

Dear CABE 2016 Attendees:

As CABE 2016 Conference Honorary Chairs and Co-sponsors, we are pleased to welcome you to the California Association for Bilingual Education 2016 Conference, “Bridging Multiple Worlds for Local and Global Success”.

We are in the midst of a renewed commitment to ensure that all students are prepared for success in the 21st century. Our challenge as educators is to support our students as they bridge their multiple worlds encompassing their classrooms, their communities, their cultures, and the digital age that they live in. The future holds many possibilities for our students if we can rise to the challenge of ensuring their academic success throughout all levels.

California Superintendent of Public Instruction Torlakson reminds us that the 21st Century workplace values knowledge of multiple languages. He urges us to develop our student’s multilingual capacities in response to this global imperative. We couldn’t agree more! We strongly believe that all students deserve the same access to curriculum that provides enriching and joyful learning opportunities as they become prepared to be active citizens in this increasingly complex society. As educators, we know we must acknowledge and value the world the students bring to the classroom in order to extend their local connections to become the citizens who can bridge multiple worlds.

We are encouraged by our CABE partners and look forward to seeing the impact of CABE 2016 to successfully bring research and best strategies to classroom practice with the goal of ensuring a rigorous education for English Learners and all students that is interesting, joyful and affirming of our students’ worlds. We know that these true success stories begin with committed educators who are relentless in their quest to educate their students for global success.

CABE continues to provide a place for educators to learn about the current research to promote bilingualism, multiculturalism and creativity. At CABE 2016 our hope is that you will meet colleagues who share similar passions, that you gain strategies and tools to support you in your work, and that you leave invigorated for the work left to be completed as we continue to Bridge Multiple Worlds for Local and Global Success.

Thank you for joining us.

Dear Conference Participants:

As Co-chairs for the California Association for Bilingual Education (CABE) 2016 conference and representatives of our districts and organizations, we welcome you to San Francisco for the 41st Annual CABE Conference. Each year, the CABE conference invites educators and parents from across the state of California and beyond to participate in the premier conference concerning the needs of English Learners. Participants represent schools, districts, county offices and institutions of higher education. CABE conferences are an important venue to address the educational needs of California’s nearly 1.5 million English learners, the professionals who teach them, and the parents who support them.

The theme of CABE 2016 is: Bridging Multiple Worlds for Local & Global Success. We are certain that at CABE 2016 you will receive the tools to make those dreams a reality!

CABE’s mission is to promote biliteracy, educational equity and 21st century success for students with diverse cultural, racial, and linguistic backgrounds. The four-day CABE 2016 conference will focus on the assets of multilingualism and multiculturalism and the opportunities that these provide for an enriched and more powerful educational experience. The conference will also explore the changes coming to California’s education system and will address the impact of these changes on our English learner population.

CABE 2016 conference will offer a wide range of opportunities to network and to learn more about effective education for students in all phases of learning English or another language. Speakers and workshop sessions will address multiple interests and needs of educators and parents, including the Common Core State Standards, the ELD/ELA Framework, parent engagement and leadership, the implementation and growth of two-way language immersion programs, the integration of technology in the classroom, state and local initiatives to engage students in the arts, and the State Seal of Biliteracy.

Thank you for joining CABE in Bridging Multiple Worlds for Local & Global Success. It is our desire that, together, we will provide all our students true access to a quality education, 21st century preparedness, and success in multilingual learning in school and beyond.

Have a wonderful experience at CABE 2016!

GREETINGS FROM THE MAYOR

On behalf of the City and County of San Francisco, it is with great pleasure that I welcome you to the California Association for Bilingual Education Annual Conference being held March 23-26, 2016 in San Francisco.

The California Association for Bilingual Education (CABE) is known for their dedication to promoting bilingual education and quality experiences for all of California’s students. This event is a significant contribution to our state’s school and university personnel, parents and other individuals, especially those who work with dual language learners. CABE provides participants with innovative and in-depth professional development towards positively impacting future generations of Californians, and their passion represents San Francisco values at their best.

I am proud to be Mayor of a City that has a long-standing commitment to investing in education and celebrating diversity. San Francisco takes pride in its diverse communities and this annual conference will benefit many communities and cities for years to come. I applaud the tireless efforts of CABE and all those individuals who have made their annual conference a true success. Congratulations and best wishes for a productive, fruitful conference.

With warmest regards,

Edwin M. Lee
Mayor

Estimados amigos de CABE:

En nombre del Instituto de los Mexicanos en el Exterior (IME) me complace darles la bienvenida a la Conferencia Anual CABE 2016, en San Francisco, California.

En el IME nos sentimos muy orgullosos al aliarnos con CABE y participar en la Conferencia 2016, donde contaremos con la presencia de un importante grupo de instituciones públicas de México que compartirán programas y servicios disponibles para escuelas, maestros y padres de familia interesados en promover y aprovechar iniciativas de educación bilingüe, tanto en California como en México.

El Instituto de los Mexicanos en el Exterior (www.ime.gob.mx) de la Secretaría de Relaciones Exteriores de México (www.gob.mx/sre) tiene como propósito empoderar a los mexicanos en el exterior, así como apoyar las iniciativas y proyectos de las comunidades y organizaciones mexicanas, con la finalidad de facilitar su integración en la sociedad donde actualmente viven, así como de fortalecer sus vínculos con sus comunidades de origen en México.

En particular, el IME desea aprovechar esta oportunidad para ampliar los lazos de cooperación entre las escuelas, maestros, promotores de la educación bilingüe y la red de 50 Consulados de México en EUA (10 de ellos en California). El IME cuenta con una oficina en cada Consulado de México, donde con gusto podemos apoyar a los integrantes y participantes de CABE 2016, con materiales y oportunidades de colaboración para ampliar las oportunidades de desarrollo educativo bilingüe de las comunidades mexicanas, hispanas y de las familias norteamericanas.

Observamos en CABE 2016 una oportunidad para compartir retos y oportunidades de la educación bilingüe entre instituciones de California y México, en beneficio de las familias de una América del Norte próspera.

Atentamente,

Francisco de la Torre Galindo

La poesía en el aula: un recurso para el aprendizaje de español

La poesía proporciona múltiples recursos para el aprendizaje y perfeccionamiento lingüístico. El texto poético, poco utilizado en el aula, ofrece numerosas y ricas oportunidades de práctica y acercamiento a la lengua. Asimismo, se convierte en una de las estrategias más eficaces para que el profesorado enriquezca su vocabulario y se acerque a contenidos culturales diversos. El taller tendrá dos vertientes, una dirigida a actividades con alumnos y otra dirigida al propio profesorado.

CABE is honored to recognize Elisa Kleven as the CABE 2016 Artist. The CABE 2016 artwork represents a magical journey around San Francisco providing powerful imagery for the CABE 2016 theme: “Bridging Multiple Worlds for Global and Local Success.” This image is from the children's book City by the Bay ©1998 and used with the permission of Chronicle Books, San Francisco.

Elisa is the award-winning illustrator of several well known books often showcased at CABE conferences: Abuela by Arthur Dorros, De Colores by Jose Luis Orozco, Angels Watching Over Me by Julia Durano, and The Weaver by Thacher Hurd. She also illustrated the CD cover for José Luis Orozco’s recently Grammy nominated album, ¡Come bien! Eat Right!

Elisa has also authored and illustrated her own books such as Welcome Home Mouse, A Monster in the house, the Paper Princess series, The Puddle Pail and The Lion and the Little Red Bird.

Elisa is a popular presenter at schools, book festivals, and conferences, Originally from Los Angeles, Elisa lives near San Francisco with her husband.

Elisa shares, “I write and illustrate picture books because I’ve never outgrown a deep childhood urge to enter a magical world. As a child growing up in Los Angeles, I wished that my huge city could be more like the places in the books that I loved -- places where forests grew and seasons changed, where animals talked and anything was possible.”

Elisa’s work will be featured and available for sale in the Exhibit Hall, Booth #504. She will be present throughout the conference to sign her artwork.

This moving and inspirational award winning documentary tells the story of Las Patronas, a group of women in La Patrona, a small Mexican town in Veracruz that is situated by the tracks of a train from Central America that brings many migrants North to the United States. Las Patronas have helped immigrants since 1995 as they cross Mexico on their way to the U.S. Perched on high-speed trains, the young travelers reach out to grab bags of hot food that the women have prepared for them. This documentary is an intimate look at the daily lives that cross the borders of rural Mexico and Central America with the hope and dream of a better life. In the midst of a country at war, in a world where hope seems lost, Las Patronas rescue the core human value day after day by showing compassion and love for others.

Paintings by Talavera-Ballon http://www.talavera-ballon.com depicting Las patrones and Latino Immigrants in San Francisco and California will be displayed at the showing of the movie and in the Exhibit Hall.
ABRAZOS tells the transformational journey of a group of U.S. citizen children, sons and daughters of undocumented immigrants, who travel from Minnesota to Guatemala to meet their grandparents -- and in some instances their siblings -- for the first time.

There are 4.5 million other U.S. citizen children who, like them, have at least one undocumented parent and are part of mixed-status families, ABRAZOS is the story of 14 of them. Even though they are entitled to the same rights and freedoms as all Americans, many of these children are growing up with the constant fear of separation from their parents. In addition, never having met their grandparents, they don’t have a clear sense of who they are or their heritage. ABRAZOS is a film that reflects the hopes, dreams and fears, of these transnational-families who are able to embrace each other, share stories, strengthen traditions and begin to reconstruct their cultural identity.

Director & producer, Luis Argueta, will introduce his film and be present for a Q&A session after the screening.
INTERESTED IN BEING PART OF CABE LEADERSHIP?
CONSIDER RUNNING FOR THE CABE BOARD OF DIRECTORS!

CABE has openings on the CABE Board of Directors for the following positions for 2016-17:

- Region II Representative
- Region IV Representative
- President Elect
- Vice President
- Director of Parent Relations
- Director of Para Professional Affairs
- Director of State/Legislative Affairs
- 2-Way CABE Affiliate Board - 2 Positions

Any CABE member who is interested in one of these positions and meets the criteria has the opportunity to submit a nomination application. Applications for the above open positions were sent via email to all voting members by March 14, 2016. The nomination application deadline is April 4, 2016. Members submitting a complete nomination application and meeting the established criteria for positions on the board of directors will be placed on the election ballot. Upon notification of an accepted application, Candidate Statements will be due on April 18, 2016 to be included on the election ballot.

Questions? Come to the Membership Booth, #201, in the Exhibit Hall at CABE 2016 for more information!

All voting members with emails on file will be casting votes electronically. An email invitation to execute your electronic election ballot for the 2016 election will include a hyperlink to your personalized election ballot using a user passcode. You can submit your vote for the candidates electronically. If you do not have an active, working email address or cannot participate electronically, please contact CABE email at info@bilingualeducation.org or by phone at (626) 814-4441. A special printed ballot will be prepared for eligible members who do not have an email address on file with CABE headquarters.

This information will also be posted on the CABE website at www.bilingualeducation.org. The email notification will be sent by VoteNet, CABE’s independent election agent. Please be sure to look for the election ballot notification email on May 4, 2016.

IMPORTANT - PLEASE NOTE: You must be a member in Good Standing as of February 28, 2015, to participate in board member elections in 2016.
CABE Members are invited to participate in the Annual Membership Meeting 2016!

Saturday, March 26, 10:45 am-12:00 pm in the Imperial B Room

The Membership Meeting provides you with the opportunity to meet your elected CABE Board Members and give valuable input on CABE’s Strategic Plan as well as hear about upcoming elections for open board positions.

CABE President Karling Aguilera-Fort, and Vice President Ramón Zavala, along with other board members, will share the progress of the CABE Strategic Plan (The CABE Compass) and lead attendees in providing insight and feedback on how CABE can best serve the educators and parents of English Learner students, promoting the CABE vision of Biliteracy for All.

LEADERSHIP SYMPOSIUM

Administrative Leadership Symposium
Friday, March 25, 2016 • 10:30 am-2:30 pm • Imperial A

PLANNING STRATEGICALLY FOR GLOBAL SUCCESS
Models for Sustainable Transformation
Participants who have pre-registered have priority seating. Lunch is provided.

Complimentary Registration is offered for Board Members, Superintendents and Assistant Superintendents. Other conference attendees who are district and site administrators and leaders are welcome to attend for a small registration fee.

OUTCOMES
• Create a space for like-minded leaders to convene and communicate around issues of 21st century excellence and equity for English Learners and other students.
• Engage participants in exploring strategic planning models for sustainable transformation that result in globally-competitive schools.
• Share processes for strategic integration and implementation of district and site plans to ensure 21st century equity and excellence for English Learners.
• Address the needs of English Learners through the LCAP process
• Generate enthusiasm and excitement about deeply engaging our communities in envisioning high-level success for our students and schools.

DESCRIPTION
The Administrator Leadership Symposium will provide district and site leaders with a window into strategic planning processes that are models for sustainable transformation of an entire school district so it can achieve 21st century multi-lingual excellence and equity for English Learners.

This year’s symposium attendees will hear from the leadership of three California districts about their progress in designing and implementing forward-thinking student-centered strategic initiatives that drive the Local Control and Accountability Plan and that have dramatically changed both the WHAT and the HOW of the districts’ work.

This session will provide an exciting space for district and site leaders to access key information, research, support, and structures to successfully implement globally-competitive schools and funding policies and practices that yield 21st century success for English Learners and all other students.

Facilitated and organized by San Rafael USD and the CABE Board of Directors

Award winning GLAD Model strategies will be shared, putting the research & theory of GLAD into action with alignment to the New Common Core Content Standards. Participants will experience effective strategies for multiple disciplines (reading, writing, brain compatible teaching, guided oral practice for language acquisition of best practices) to support English learners- but proven effective for differentiation for English only students too. These specific classroom strategies have practical classroom applications so students can access and acquire high academic content & language with proven phenomenal results. Official Credit for the Be GLAD 2-Day Workshop will be granted to participants, so participants will need to attend both full days to receive credit and be eligible to attend the future Be GLAD Classroom Demonstration. (The full Be GLAD Training consist of this 2-Day Workshop and a 4 or 5 Day Classroom Demonstration at a later time) Come reignite the excitement of teaching with us as we show you how to empower yourself & your students to succeed!

• Engaging Language Learners through Kagan Structures for Active Engagement

10:30 AM - 4:30 PM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 22

Tom Searl, Kagan Publishing & Professional Development

Grade Level: K-12
Language: English
Strand: Professional Development/Teacher Preparation
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Boost academic achievement for English Learners with Kagan Structures: simple, research-based instructional strategies that make learning more active and interactive. You learn easy ways to use Kagan Structures as a part of every lesson, creating greater engagement, deeper understanding of the content, improved retention and greater liking for class and content. You master the Seven Keys to Cooperative Learning including Team Formation, Building Will, Management Techniques, Embedded Social Skills, PIES Principles, and Structures! If you want more fun in teaching, highly engaged students who love your classroom, and elevated test scores, this workshop is for you!

• Science & Math Instructional Strategies for English Learners: Building Academic Success for ELs through Content and the Common Core Standards

10:30 AM - 4:30 PM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 15/16

Ron Rohac, Rohac Ed Solutions

Grade Level: 6-12
Language: English
Strand: Curriculum & Instruction
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

This hands-on, teacher friendly workshop is loaded with practical applications and strategies that meet the Common Core State Standards. Participants will work through a number of lesson plans and activities in science and mathematics, demonstrating how to build academic language and literacy components for English Learners into content lesson plans without compromising the grade-level concepts or curriculum standards.

• Unpacking the ELD/ELA Framework and Standards for Integrated and Designated ELD Time

10:30 AM - 4:30 PM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 23/24

Ivanna Soto, Whittier College

Grade Level: K-8
Language: English
Strand: English Language Development (ELD)
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

In this two-day institute, we will discover how the new ELD/ELA framework and standards can create language support and scaffolding for ELs throughout their school day. First, we will explore the intent, structure, themes, and key chapters of the ELD/ELA framework, as well as real classroom examples via the snapshots and vignettes. Then, we will unpack the new ELD standards, and spend time planning instruction for designated and integrated ELD.

Como ayudar a nuestros hijos a tener el buen automanejo que los llevará a triunfar en la vida

Los grandes cambios en el mundo nos presentan con increíbles retos que tenemos que afrontar positivamente. En este taller practicaremos técnicas y herramientas que los adultos pueden usar para ayudar a los niños/jóvenes a: (1) ser responsables, (2) desarrollar auto-motivación, y (3) planear para el futuro.

Simple Tools of Technology to Help English Learners Succeed in the 21st Century

This workshop proposes how to use simple technology with English Learners, such as PowerPoint and Prezi in order to incorporate 21st Century Skills with any existing assignment. Teachers will also be given examples of other technology such as comic strips and cartoons, used in a Senior English class, as well as a mid level English Language Development class and a Master’s Education class. This workshop is ideal for the newly adopted ELD standards and the Common Core. Through this workshop, educators will be presented with simple tools of technology that can be used with any existing assignment. Teachers will be provided with tips in order to incorporate 21st Century skills in their classroom setting. This workshop is ideal for the Common Core/ELD standards.

Getting Up Close and Personal with Close Reading via Foldables and Interactive Notebooking

Research has shown that parent engagement in our schools increases student’s academic success. Parent engagement can only be achieved through building bridges of trust with their schools. By focusing on how trust plays in the relationships between families and schools, responsible educators can build those bridges of trust and thus achieve student academic success. In this workshop, participants will be guided on how to build and promote trust with their schools and families by engaging in activities that will help them reflect on best practices for building bridges of trust in their schools and families. The Teachers of Language Learners Learning Community (TL3C) is a federal grant project that aims to support teachers of language learners (TLLs) in various programs at Title I schools. The project hosts professional development opportunities for TLLs including a 7-day summer institute followed by two full day sessions during the academic year. During the institute, TLLs engage in interactive experiences that model an investigative classroom for language learners focusing on increasing depth of content knowledge and academic language. These signature experiences are sheltered to model best practices for language learners. Teachers collaborate in grade levels to replicate STEM investigations to pilot in dual language and SEI classrooms. The framework of the institute is built around college courses that further address scientific inquiry and lesson design specific to language learners. In this session, participants will experience a micro investigation and will identify the guiding principles to set up investigations in the classroom that are inclusive of language learners.

Mini Shared Reading As a Bridge to Proficient Reading in L1 & L2

Mini Shared Reading is a teaching/learning strategy organized: 1) to familiarize the children with a leveled predictable book two levels beyond their instructional level; 2) to engage them in a successful act of proficient reading; and 3) to make visible the cueing systems (semantic, syntactic, graphophonic, and orthographic) and universals strategies (predicting, sampling, confirming, self correcting, comprehending) as the reader revisits the text with mediated guidance. It is based on four theoretical and research foundations that include: Vygotsky’s sociocultural theory of teaching/learning, Goodman’s sociopysholinguistic theory of reading; Ferreiro & Teberosky’s sociopsychogenesis theory of “how children come to know” written language; and 4) Freire’s sociopolitical theory of the praxis of teaching/learning.

En el 2015 hice esta presentacion en inglés. Esta vez quiero presentarla en español. Los Estados Unidos está experimentando una crisis muy grave. Esta es una crisis de alfabetismo entre los estudiantes que hoy día acuden a las escuelas. Esta crisis se refleja en las estadísticas de desempeño que presentan los niños. Un ejemplo triste de esto se ve en la proporción de alumnos que pasan el examen de California de desarrollo en inglés(CELDT.) Solo 1 de cada 5 alumnos logran conseguir puntuacion apropiada para poder reclasificarse Cuál es la diferencia? Exactamente qué son las estrategias que aseguran el éxito? En esta presentación veremos las estadísticas sobre las evaluaciones de lectura. También veremos los métodos que actualmente se usan para enseñar y los últimos descubrimientos científicos sobre estos métodos y el aprendizaje de la lectura. También veremos unos ejemplos que usted podría usar en casa para ayudar a sus hijos mejorar su progreso en la lectura.

2:45 PM - 4:00 PM
Room: BR-Continental Ballroom 2

Christina Arpante, Santa Clara COE
Rhonda Beasley, Santa Clara COE

Grade Level: 3-12, Adult
Language: English
Strand: Professional Development/Teacher Preparation
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

This hands-on workshop will focus on dynamic classroom discussions through collaborative close reading. Because literacy is woven into every aspect of the learning, participants will put on their “student hat” and engage in a rigorous, collaborative, and peer driven close reading. Participants will experience flexible multi-strategy learning opportunities for all learners while demonstrating how to become more adept and informed readers of complex texts.
WORKSHOPS / SESSION 2  2:45 PM - 4:00 PM

•Designing Parent Workshops and Events - Help is on the Way!

2:45 PM - 4:00 PM
Room: Tower 3-Golden Gate 3

Marcia Turner, Ocean View SD
Sandra Pérez, Ocean View SD
Marina Valero, Ocean View SD

Grade Level: Preschool-8
Language: English
Strand: Parent and Community Engagement
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Planning and designing parent engagement activities can be time consuming, and often our schools don’t do as much as they should. We will provide support by sharing some of our successful practices. Participants will come away with some specific agendas and materials for classes, workshops and meetings in Spanish that are of interest to English Learner parents. For example: Beginning Computer Skills, Positive Discipline Strategies, Reading with your Child.

•Invitations to the Conversation: Teacher Talk Moves that Empower English Learners

2:45 PM - 4:00 PM
Room: Tower 3-Golden Gate 4

Jenn Guerrero, Sonoma COE
Kelly Matteri, Sonoma COE

Grade Level: All
Language: English
Strand: English Language Development (ELD)
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

In California, three out of five English Learners in grades 6-12 are Long Term English Learners. In order to address this crisis, English Learners must be purposefully positioned as active, valued participants in the learning community of the classroom. Teachers play a critical role in facilitating the kind of inclusive, academically rich discussions that have the potential to engage and empower English Language Learners. This workshop will equip teachers with strategic moves for facilitating academic discussion that can help break ineffective communicative habits held by both teachers and students, while building a new, more powerful, repertoire of communication skills.

•Let’s Talk History! Social Studies, Academic Discussions, and Language Acquisition

2:45 PM - 4:00 PM
Room: Tower 3-Lombard

Mae Chaplin, CSU Sacramento

Grade Level: K-12
Language: English
Strand: English Language Development (ELD)
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

This interactive workshop focuses on using Social Studies curriculum to promote language acquisition and academic discussions. Topics covered include: 1. An introduction of the characteristics and benefits of using academic discussions to enhance language acquisition; 2. An interactive presentation of activities used to prepare and facilitate academic discussions; 3. An overview of planning considerations related to Social Studies; and 4. Time for individual reflection concerning the practical application of the above activities.

•Nourishing the Roots of Learning: Lessons from an Immersion Preschool

2:45 PM - 4:00 PM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 9

Bethica Quinn, Centro Las Olas

Grade Level: All
Language: English
Strand: Early Childhood Education
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

This session invites participants to reflect on documentation being collected at Centro Las Olas, a Spanish immersion preschool in San Francisco. Through the lens of four underlying processes of development, we will present our emerging conclusions about creating classrooms rich in discourse and inquiry for young dual language learners. Participants will investigate these processes, their potential for narrowing the achievement gap, and how they may be applied in a variety of educational contexts.
• Reading Strategies to Use in Your Classroom Tomorrow

2:45 PM - 4:00 PM
Room: BR-Continental Ballroom 3

Debbie Quevedo, Hesperia USD

Grade Level: K-8
Language: English
Strand: Curriculum & Instruction
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Come and “make and take” effective, research-based reading strategies to implement in your classroom immediately. Walk away with various activities and techniques to motivate students and help them improve understanding of complex text. Come be an active participant in this fun-filled, hands-on session!

• Why You Should Pay Attention to Foreign Language Anxiety

2:45 PM - 4:00 PM
Room: BR-Continental Ballroom 8

Taghreed Al-Saraj, Berkeley Language Center & Educate Right

Grade Level: 9-12, College/University, Adult Education
Language: English
Strand: Professional Development/Teacher Preparation
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Many people suffer from foreign language anxiety and are not aware of it. Language anxiety can be extremely debilitating for some to the point that they stop the learning process and flee from the opportunity. This presentation will explain exactly what foreign language anxiety is, as well as how to recognize it, both as an educator or as a student, and provide methods of how to reduce the effects on the language learner.

• Scaffold Student Learning: Building the Rigor

2:45 PM - 4:00 PM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 13

Tracey Gaglio, Orange County DOE
Omar Guillen, Orange County DOE

Grade Level: K-12
Language: English
Strand: English Language Development (ELD)
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Participants will explore explicit connections between language and content. The rigor of the Common Core requires students to engage in productive oral and written work across content areas. This workshop highlights a tool which is based on Bloom’s Taxonomy, Norm Webb’s Depth of Knowledge (DOK) and the 2012 California ELD Standards. The scaffold tool consists of teacher prompts and student response frames across all levels of language development and higher level thinking in order to help educators meet the language demands of the Common Core. Participants will also explore the new scaffold student support tool. The purpose of this learning tool is to promote critical thinking and engagement in academic conversations. The student support tool brings together three distinct parts of learning:

• Connect: Link Current & Previous learning
• Construct: Engage as a Learner
• Consider: Think About Your Learning

In this workshop participants will walk away with strategies that enhance language and content as well as building the oral rigor need for students.

SONIA MANZANO
“María” from Sesame Street
Actress and Advocate for Bilingualism

In this presentation based on her new book, Becoming Maria: Love and Chaos in the South Bronx, Manzano shares her personal tale of the struggles she faced coming from a poor Puerto Rican family to eventually becoming one of the most influential Latinas in television. Based on her memoir, this poignant and inspirational story is told with Manzano’s signature humor and wit, making this a memorable presentation for all.

Sonia Manzano is a first-generation American of Latino descent who has affected the lives of millions of parents and children since the early 1970’s when she was offered an opportunity to play “Maria” on Sesame Street. Manzano was raised in the South Bronx where her involvement in the arts was inspired by teachers who encouraged her to audition for the High School of Performing Arts. She was accepted there and began her career as an actress. A scholarship took her to Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh, and in her junior year, she came to New York to star in the original production of the off-Broadway show “Godspell.” Within a year, Manzano joined the production of Sesame Street, where she eventually began writing scripts for the series. She was thrilled to help write the story line for “Maria’s” marriage and birth of “Maria’s” baby, played for a while by Manzano’s real-life daughter Gabriela.

Sonia will be signing her book immediately following this session in the Author’s Corner in the Grand Ballroom Exhibit Hall.

Building Bridges: Shifting Paradigms in Science & Exploration

We are currently living through a revolution in science and exploration— and it isn’t just big data and exponential advancements in technology that have changed the paradigm. Now more than ever, scientists are expected to be communicators, educators, and active participants in their communities in order to bridge the gap between public knowledge and new discoveries. Andrés Ruzo shares his experiences as the head of an international conservation project that aims to protect a sacred indigenous site deep in the Amazon Rainforest. Through field anecdotes, Andrés will focus on how his bicultural and bilingual background have been essential to his mission, and how we, as educators, can empower the explorers of tomorrow.

Andrés grew up between Texas, Nicaragua, and Peru. Besides giving him a bit of a national identity crisis, it helped him see that most of the world’s problems are not confined by borders. In trying to find their solutions, he realized the way we produce and use energy lies at the root of many of our biggest issues. This realization led him to pursue degrees in Geology and Finance at Southern Methodist University, where he is currently finishing his PhD in Geophysics with a focus on geothermal studies. His geothermal research has taken him to five continents, most recently from the high Andes Mountains, to Peru’s coastal deserts, and even the Amazon Rainforest. Andrés is a National Geographic Explorer, and has been featured in the National Geographic Magazine, on television, a number of online NatGeo media outlets. He is also an active contributor to National Geographic Learning’s educational materials. Beyond this he is a TED speaker, and has earned recognitions and awards from a number of institutions, including the Geothermal Resources Council, the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, and Greenpeace.

•Engaging Language Learners through Kagan Structures for Active Engagement

10:30 AM - 4:30 PM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 22

Tom Searl, Kagan Publishing & Professional Development

Grade Level: K-12
Language: English
Strand: Professional Development/Teacher Preparation
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Boost academic achievement for English Learners with Kagan Structures: simple, research-based instructional strategies that make learning more active and interactive. You learn easy ways to use Kagan Structures as a part of every lesson, creating greater engagement, deeper understanding of the content, improved retention and greater liking for class and content. You master the Seven Keys to Cooperative Learning including Team Formation, Building Will, Management Techniques, Embedded Social Skills, PIES Principles, and Structures! If you want more fun in teaching, highly engaged students who love your classroom, and elevated test scores, this workshop is for you!

•Be GLAD 2-Day Institute

10:30 AM - 5:30 PM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 19/20

Noshaba Afzal, Be GLAD LLC
Marcia Brechtel, Be GLAD LLC
Michele Rasner, Be GLAD LLC
Melissa Brooks, Be GLAD LLC

Grade Level: All
Language: English
Strand: English Language Development (ELD)
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Award winning GLAD Model strategies will be shared, putting the research & theory of GLAD into action with alignment to the New Common Core Content Standards. Participants will experience effective strategies for multiple disciplines (reading, writing, brain compatible teaching, guided oral practice for language acquisition of best practices) to support English learners- but proven effective for differentiation for English only students too. These specific classroom strategies have practical classroom applications so students can access and acquire high academic content & language with proven phenomenal results. Official Credit for the Be GLAD 2-Day Workshop will be granted to participants, so participants will need to attend both full days to receive credit and be eligible to attend the future Be GLAD Classroom Demonstration. (The full Be GLAD Training consist of this 2-Day Workshop and a 4 or 5 Day Classroom Demonstration at a later time) Come reignite the excitement of teaching with us as we show you how to empower yourself & your students to succeed!
•Unpacking the ELD/ELA Framework and Standards for Integrated and Designated ELD Time

10:30 AM - 4:30 PM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 23/24

Ivannia Soto, Whittier College

Grade Level: K-8
Language: English
Strand: English Language Development (ELD)
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

In this two-day institute, we will discover how the new ELD/ELA framework and standards can create language support and scaffolding for ELs throughout their school day. First, we will explore the intent, structure, themes, and key chapters of the ELD/ELA framework, as well as real classroom examples via the snapshots and vignettes. Then, we will unpack the new ELD standards, and spend time planning instruction for designated and integrated ELD.

•An Overview of Two-Way Bilingual/Dual Immersion Programs: Authentic 21st Century Learning for All Students

10:30 AM - 4:30 PM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 17/18

Jody Wiencek, CABE PDS Consultant
Kris Nicholls, CABE Professional Development Services

Grade Level: Preschool-12
Language: English
Strand: Biliteracy/Dual Immersion
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

This institute is designed for participants who are interested in developing or beginning a two-way bilingual/dual immersion program. Participants will interact with experienced practitioners as they provide a critical overview of the two-way bilingual/dual immersion program including definitions, goals, theoretical rationale, criteria for success, and basic components for implementation.

•Science & Math Instructional Strategies for English Learners: Building Academic Success for ELs through Content and the Common Core Standards

10:30 AM - 4:30 PM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 15/16

Ron Rohac, Rohac Ed Solutions

Grade Level: 6-12
Language: English
Strand: Curriculum & Instruction
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

This hands-on, teacher friendly workshop is loaded with practical applications and strategies that meet the Common Core State Standards. Participants will work through a number of lesson plans and activities in science and mathematics, demonstrating how to build academic language and literacy components for English Learners into content lesson plans without compromising the grade-level concepts or curriculum standards.
FEATURED INSTITUTES

• Preparing Long-Term English Learners to Meet Common Core Writing Demands

Kate Kinsella
San Francisco State University, Center for Teacher Efficacy

To meet the advanced writing demands posed by Common Core shifts, English learners need informed, interactive and systematic instruction. Rather than spending abundant class time silently journaling and completing graphic organizers, neophyte English writers need their ELD teacher to serve as the over-the-shoulder writing coach their parents cannot generally be. This institute outlines and models the process of conscientiously preparing students for a writing task, including introducing and unpacking a model paper exemplifying expectations, providing a student-friendly analytic rubric that clearly specifies the elements of the writing type, front-loading and practicing target language, and facilitating productive peer response sessions. Drawing on extensive ELD experience, the presenter points out persistent writing errors made by long-term English learners, and demonstrates effective strategies for addressing them through targeted instruction and timely, respectful feedback. Digital and print resources will be shared for site-based professional development: rubrics, model papers, language tools, and instructional routine guidelines.

10:30 AM - 4:30 PM
Room: BR-Imperial B

• Inspiring Voice: Social Justice, English Learners, and the Arts

Ana María Alvarez, CONTRA-TIEMPO Urban Latin Dance Theater
Sarah Anderberg, California County Superintendents Educational Services Association
Bryonn Bain, Lyrical Minded Artistic Director (Invited)

Grade Level: All
Language: English
Strand: Arts Learning
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

This institute, led by dancer/choreographer Ana María Alvarez will engage participants in exploring perspectives on how the arts can support and even inspire student voice through a focus on access, equity, and social justice. Other artists will join them to provide a framework for addressing issues of equity and access by design. Participants will have hands-on experiences in the use of dance, theatre, and other art forms in the classroom to dramatically improve the quality of English Learner instruction and interaction while creating a culturally and linguistically responsive and affirming environment for students and teachers. Participants will enjoy a visit from a special guest artist!!

Standard English Learners: New Schemas for Bridging Academic & Career Success

This seminar is designed to help educators develop new paradigms for advancing learning in Standard English Learners (SELS), i.e., Students for whom Standard English is not native. Participants will become knowledgeable about issues of language variation and learning in SEL populations, reflect on beliefs, attitudes, and perceptions that negatively impact their learning, and build new schemas that bridge culture, language and academic rigor for school and career success.

The Critical Importance of Bilingualism

Research clearly shows the significant positive impact of bilingualism on the cognitive, language, and academic development of students, but it is also a key factor in familial and social relationships, and in mental health functioning. This presentation will examine different sources of current research demonstrating the critical importance of bilingualism for students across the schooling spectrum, PreK-12. Do you know the research-based reasons why early education needs to address bilingualism, or what the most current research shows about the impact of bilingualism on EL students’ reclassification and dual language students’ achievement, or what secondary students think of bilingualism, or how bilingualism is linked to good mental health?

A Conversation with Lily Wong Fillmore

Join Dr. Lily Wong Fillmore for a close up conversational session where she will share stories and reflections on her research and scholarly work that have impacted thousands of educators for over four decades. Dr. Wong Fillmore’s work has focused on the needs of English Learners as well as students of varying dialects and language origins. She has made tremendous strides in affecting outcomes for our students in California as well as throughout the nation. Join this intimate session to hear the life stories of one of the most highly respected and impactful researchers and practitioners in the field of English Learners.
•Art Lessons to Motivate and Engage English Learner

10:30 AM - 11:45 AM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 25

Louisa Castrodale, Palm Springs USD

Grade Level: All
Language: English
Strand: Arts Learning
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Arts Coordinator, Louisa Castrodale will lead teachers through two hands-on art lessons designed to integrate art into other curricular areas, via Common Core strategies, while providing maximum motivation and engagement for second language learners.

•Fostering Motivation and Responsibility in the Classroom: How to Help Students Acquire Self-Management Skills

10:30 AM - 11:45 AM
Room: Tower 3-Golden Gate 4

María Reifler, Montebello USD

Grade Level: All
Language: English
Strand: Professional Development/Teacher Preparation
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Students are growing up in a fast-changing and challenging world. To meet today’s challenges—new technologies, bullying, among others—young people need to learn the skills to manage their lives responsibly. In this session, educators will have the opportunity to learn and review self-management skills and how to apply them in their classroom. These skills will help participants learn how to foster a sense of responsibility, self-respect, and respect for others, in order to have a disciplined and motivated classroom environment.

•Academic Vocabulary: Purposeful Selection and Creative Solutions

10:30 AM - 11:45 AM
Room: BR-Imperial A

Eugenia Mora-Flores, University of Southern California

Grade Level: K-12
Language: English
Strand: English Language Development (ELD)
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

This session will present participants with strategies for developing students’ academic vocabulary. From vocabulary games to word analysis strategies participants will learn new ways of teaching vocabulary and providing ample opportunities for students to practice using the words in diverse ways. A framework for vocabulary instruction will also be presented.

•Inspiring ELs in Acquiring English and Connecting to School

10:30 AM - 11:45 AM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 3

Ellen Tremblay, Chaffey Joint Union High SD
Brenton Tatum, Chaffey Joint Union High SD
Leonard Sánchez, Chaffey Joint Union High SD

Grade Level: 9-12
Language: English
Strand: English Language Development (ELD)
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

This presentation will offer multiple strategies and ideas to use with English learners. Presenters will share their experiences working in a Newcomer Program for grades 9-12. Participants will learn ways to connect students to the culture of their school and achieve academic success in English. From using poetry, to presentations, to technology, learn to engage English learners whether they have been in the United States one day or one year.
WORKSHOPS / SESSION 3  10:30 AM - 11:45 AM

•Teacher Teams and Collaboration for Whole School Change: One School’s Odyssey

10:30 AM - 11:45 AM
Room: BR-Continental Ballroom 3

Martha Torres, San Francisco USD
Marguerite Lukes, Internationals Network for Public Schools
Pablo Villavicencio, San Francisco USD
Amy Gottesfeld, San Francisco USD

Grade Level: 9-12
Language: English
Strand: Leadership
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

In this interactive workshop, administrators, leaders and teachers from SFUSD in partnership with the International Network for Public Schools will present structures and instruction developed in one comprehensive high school with the goal of improving services for ELs. Presented will be examples and best practices from their partnership work to redesign structures and instruction to integrate language development into all classes for ELs at the high school level. Administrators will discuss the role of the district in supporting the partnership, the role of school leaders in fostering teacher teams and teacher leadership development, and the impact of the partnership on whole school redesign and a comprehensive vision.

•Reading With Tech: Digital Read-Alouds, Leveled Reading and Multilingual Texts

10:30 AM - 11:45 AM
Room: BR-Franciscan C

Cathy James, Redwood City SD
Karyn Warner, Redwood City SD

Grade Level: K-8
Language: English
Strand: Technology and Digital Learning
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

This workshop will delve into the emerging online tools that will help you expand your options for addressing individual students’ reading needs. Explore apps and websites that range from picture books to middle-school level informational text. See demonstrations of tools that will read aloud to students, allow them to adjust their reading levels, define new vocabulary and more. This will include lesson flow ideas that connect the tools to reading strategies and the ELD/ELA standards.

•Plan Ahead: College and Career Readiness for English Learners

10:30 AM - 11:45 AM
Room: Tower 3-Golden Gate 8

Veronica Reilley-Granich, San Francisco USD
Mary Finn, San Francisco USD

Grade Level: 9-12
Language: English
Strand: College and Career Readiness
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

In this interactive, information rich workshop presenters will provide an overview of the college and career resources available from the Plan Ahead open source curriculum designed for 9th graders. They will then outline a series of research-based strategies for supporting English Learners at all levels. Participants will receive guidance in choosing a college and career readiness skill to focus on and matching appropriate strategies to that skill relevant to the student population they work with.

•Measuring Quality Implementation for English Learner Pathways

10:30 AM - 11:45 AM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 9

Christina Wong, San Francisco USD

Grade Level: K-12
Language: English
Strand: Biliteracy/Dual Immersion
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

San Francisco Unified School District and Stanford Graduate School of Education launched a study to assess the quality and implementation of the SFUSD English Plus, Biliteracy, and Dual Language Immersion (DLI) Pathways in light of the California English Language Development Standards and Common Core State Standards. What constitutes “quality” is informed by (a) how the district defines each program model and its constituent... components and (b) existing research on effective instructional practices for ELs. The presentation will summarize the design team’s process of developing and piloting an observation protocol to measure the extent to which the essential features of SFUSD’s three language pathways and quality instruction for ELs are present in classrooms in each pathway. Participants will have the opportunity to try the observation protocol.

Scaffolding Vocabulary for English Learners in Close Reading Lessons

10:30 AM - 11:45 AM

Lauren Greenberg, Consortium on Reaching Excellence in Education

Grade Level: 3-12
Language: English
Strand: Curriculum & Instruction
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Teachers have long known the importance of preteaching vocabulary used in complex text. With the advent of the CCSS, however, confusion abounds. Some educators insist that students figure out unfamiliar vocabulary on their own. Explore a framework for determining vocabulary instruction in the context of a close reading, observe video models of two approaches, and practice using a graphic organizer and flow chart to plan instruction for close reading of informational text.

Esta presentación del modelo Be Glad® ejemplifica cómo las estrategias GLAD® son utilizadas con gran éxito en programas de inmersión bilingües de inglés-español. Los participantes experimentarán algunas estrategias GLAD a través de su participación activa en español, usando ejemplos reales de las estrategias GLAD empleadas en clases de inmersión en español. Respetando los estándares de desarrollo del idioma español, el modelo GLAD capacita a los maestros en cómo integrar las directrices y currículos de sus distritos escolares locales en la enseñanza en aulas multilingües. El enfoque de GLAD es capacitar maestros en aulas multilingües desde kinder hasta el grado 12.
CLOSE the Word GAP with the RULE of 3 RAP Academic Vocabulary Development: The Key to Literacy

10:30 AM - 11:45 AM
Room: BR-Yosemite A

Linda Ventriglia-Navarrette, UC Riverside, Moreno Valley USD
Sonia Quinn, Moreno Valley USD
Emilio Gallegos, Moreno Valley USD

Grade Level: K-5
Language: English
Strand: English Language Development (ELD)
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Academic vocabulary development using the innovative RULE of 3 is the missing link for success in literacy. Research states that systematic academic vocabulary development has the highest correlation with success in reading across the curriculum. The RULE of 3 is the result of 12 years of school-based research which included two United States Office of Education grants. The RULE of 3 uses conversation-based systematic vocabulary development. Students learn words as they REHEARSE, ANALYZE and PRODUCE the words. The implementation of ANALYZE phonics component and the Common Core reading and writing components has resulted in 90% of primary students growing 2-4 levels on language and literacy measures. Upper grade students have made significant gains on High Stakes literacy assessments. The achievement gap has been closed from 12.9 to 1.8. This presentation will include classroom teachers taking participants step by step through the RULE of 3 strategies. Classroom video clips will be shown of the RULE of 3 in action for grade levels K-6.

Building Common Core ELD Math Instruction with Teaching Toolkits

10:30 AM - 11:45 AM
Room: BR-Continental Ballroom 2

Glenn Kenyon, San Francisco USD
Angie Estonina, San Francisco USD

Grade Level: K-8
Language: English
Strand: Curriculum & Instruction
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

We have an obligation to our EL students to provide meaningful access to grade-level math content. Complex texts and intellectually challenging activities are integral to both CCSS-M and California ELD Standards. SFUSD Multilingual and Mathematics departments are collaborating in curriculum and professional development that use rich math tasks as language catalysts in heterogeneous classrooms. But successful implementation of CCSS-M is as dependent on classroom practice and as it is on content delivery. Changing the content is easy, but changing the practice is hard. The SFUSD Math Teaching Toolkit and the SFUSD ELD Teaching Toolkit were created to bring this change to our heterogeneous classrooms. Participants will experience signature strategies and tools from both of these toolkits and discuss their merits in the context working on a rich math task from the SFUSD Math Core Curriculum.

The Parent Engagement Leadership Initiative (PELI) at Moreno Valley USD (MVUSD) is a sustainable, replicable program that is transforming parent engagement and influencing student learning and achievement district-wide. The curriculum was developed by the Riverside County Office of Education (RCOE), is based on Dr. Joyce Epstein’s Six Types of Parent Involvement, and addresses Parenting, Communicating, Volunteering, Learning at Home, Decision Making, and Collaborating with the Community. MVUSD parent leaders and staff have trained in two PELI courses, have taught them in Spanish to nearly 200 stakeholders in the district, and are now seeing parent engagement activities implemented at multiple grade levels district-wide, evidence of improved student achievement, and more effective parent engagement strategies for SSPAs and the LCAP generated by trained parents and staff. MVUSD students, including English learners, are gaining the family support needed to achieve and graduate as a result.

This is an active hands-on workshop that will show you how to powerfully use dramatic monologues in two different ways: 1) to empower your students to tell their personal stories; 2) to bring to life their research on human rights issues around the world. The first part of the workshop starts with the houses where your students live(d), and ends with powerful monologues that reflect on the past, project into the future, and leave the audience with bold messages. The second part of the workshop focuses on how to take students’ research on human rights issues around the world (ex: Undocumented Students, Immigration) and turn the results of their research into powerful dramatic monologues for others to view.

Understanding how state laws are created is so important to educators, students and their parents. The legislative process is more then simply reading a manual on state government. Its a complex maze of steps that the average citizen does not understand, but with a basic understanding can be so powerful in influencing legislators and their ideas. Advocacy is not just necessary in Sacramento, its local as well. Advocacy on behalf of California’s EL students is at a critical point especially as the state’s funding system has transitioned through the Local Control Funding Formula. Join us at this workshop and leave with a desire to get involved through advocacy.

•Designing Writing for English Learners

10:30 AM - 11:45 AM
Room: Tower 3-Sutter

Nancy Akhavan, CSU Fresno

Grade Level: 3-8
Language: English
Strand: English Language Development (ELD)
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

This workshop will share a way of designing writing units to guide your English Learners of varying levels of English proficiency to write critically and thoughtfully. By designing writing units that build from assessment based on student proficiency in writing and speaking, participants will learn how to implement lessons that guide students to feel confident as writers, know how to improve their writing, and develop a community of writers in your classroom or school. Nancy, an experienced consultant, will share with you how to build units based on constructed responses, Common Core Writing and Listening Standards and employing analytical rubrics to support engaging and interactive lessons. Participants will leave with two lesson plans and one constructed response prompt to use immediately with their students.

How can we effectively respond to English Learners at risk of becoming Long-Term English Learners? School systems that focus on preventive measures to ensure that ELs do not become LTELs promote effective practice that include active participation, integrated language learning through academic content, affirming environments, and authentic opportunities to connect and extend learning in the wider community. This session will present concrete examples of curriculum development and implementation of an interdisciplinary approach to language teaching using Project-Based Learning (PBL). This program is part of a National Professional Development grant, Project STELLAR (Science Teaching for English Learners: Leveraging Academic Rigor) that focuses on language and literacy learning through an action-based emphasis on urban ecology.

•Dual Language as a Remedy: The Research Rationale

The major rationale for well-implemented dual language education includes full gap closure, satisfying legal requirements for both English learners and historically underserved groups, and graduating fully proficient bilinguals who have superior brains because of the cognitive stimuli from cross-cultural learning. Dual language education is a major vehicle for systemic reform of teaching practices, the curriculum, and school leadership. We will include our latest research findings from 2015-2016.

Schooling of children who live between multiple nation-states is a global phenomenon and transnational children who have experienced living in both the United States and Mexico will have a significant impact on the educational systems of the two nations. In this presentation we will focus on linguistic rights of U.S. born children living in Mexico. We will explore the families’ circumstances that lead to their return to Mexico. Children’s human and social capital will be examined and their cultural norms and adaptations as well as bilingual development will be discussed. By opening a small window through which the complexities of four children’s lives can be seen we argue that economic policies are impacting children of returnees in powerful ways. We will discuss the educational and policy implications of our findings and will emphasize the need for providing teacher professional development opportunities that focus on respecting the linguistic rights of transnational students and steps needed to support children and their dual language development.

Many students have complained that their instructors are often unprepared and uncomfortable when discussions of diversity issues surface. Too few educators are trained to have these types of conversations for fear they may elicit deep emotions and conflicts between individuals and groups. In this new workshop, the presenter will model how to successfully create a safe container in which to have discussions of diversity issues, where each person feels valued and acknowledged. Educators and administrators will learn to de-escalate conflicts or intense dialogues that may elicit deep emotions between individuals and groups. Participants will practice techniques and exercises that enhance community building, health ways to communicate, mindful inquiry, and compassion.

Connecting EL teacher professional development with summer credit recovery for EL students produces great results for both teachers and students. Nicknamed the “EL Village,” groups of 100 Newcomer ELs take two summer courses with an interdisciplinary team of 4 teachers, reimagining long-summer block periods.

1-Students increase their academic English proficiency while earning credits in courses required for graduation; and 2-teachers receive planning/reflecting time to development curriculum which integrates language and content and encourages one another to take risks to teach differently. Students learn language and content simultaneously. Meanwhile, teachers are both learners and instructors, implementing new curriculum and teaching strategies.

This presentation describes components of a professional development model that provide high school teachers with training on how to use content standards, English language development standards, and the Common Core State Standards to develop lessons in content classes with English learner students. Teachers participating in the professional development reported their EL students “learned more” from their modified curriculum as evidenced by showing more independence, and demonstrating a deeper understanding of content.

•Dual Language Learners in PreK and Transitional Kindergarten: Bilingualism Matters

1:30 PM - 2:45 PM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 5

Grade Level: Preschool-2
Language: English
Strand: Early Childhood Education
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

A majority of students in SFUSD are English Language Learners. In the Early Education Department, we refer to our PK and TK students as “Dual Language Learners” as we recognize and honor the home language as an asset and a tool for developing English, while also teaching and learning in the children’s first language. This presentation will tell the story of how the Dual Language Learner Program in 8 PK classrooms (Spanish/English and Cantonese/English) and 2 TK classrooms (Spanish/English) began, why it is an important narrative to hear, and the implications of our work on teacher pedagogy.
Mission Education Center is a K-5 school for newly arrived Spanish-speaking immigrant students. It is a transitional program aimed at supporting the newcomer student to achieve the necessary skills and confidence in order to succeed in other San Francisco Unified School District schools to which they will transfer at the end of 1-2 years. During their time with us, we strive to help our students gain some fundamental basics of the English language; foster their academic, social & emotional growth in their new home environment; and support them and their families to navigate & understand our educational system. Our program has been very successful to advance newcomer students, many who often come with little, interrupted, or no schooling experience. At the core of our program are basic good teaching practices based on establishing supportive & trusting relationships within the classrooms, with families, and amongst the school staff and community at large. Come hear our experience and learn or be reminded of what can help your newcomers, English Learners, and their families. We will share with you how we establish a wrap around support system to benefit our students and their families so that they can thrive, gain confidence, and accelerate in academic, social, and personal growth.

In this session, Words Their Way with English Learners author Dr. Lori Helman will guide K-6 grade educators through an overview of how to tailor your word study instruction for emergent bilingual students who are learning to speak English while they develop reading and writing skills. You will practice analyzing students’ writing samples and see examples of hands-on word study instruction with vocabulary development for a range of student abilities.

El autor René Colato Láinez compartirá su camino más íntimo que comienza con su infancia en El Salvador. Luego compartirá su experiencia como un inmigrante en un país nuevo, su vida como maestro, y su éxito como autor publicado. Él compartirá sus logros, así como sus tres reglas principales: Nunca te des por vencido, estudia mucho, y siempre cree en ti mismo. El autor finalizará, leyendo algunos de sus libros.

OnlineIPT is a web-based, easy-to-administer testing system for English and Spanish that provides automatic score reporting. The tests evaluate proficiency, yielding diagnostic information about strengths and weaknesses without requiring special software. Building from test design, we focus on the uses of the system-generated reports for record-keeping, progress monitoring, and diagnostics for guiding instruction. The “Student Summary Report,” “Individual Student Diagnostic Report,” and class, school, and district reports will be shared.
This workshop will explore how the twenty-one books of the California Missions (Las Misiones de California) series, both in English and Spanish, support the fourth grade History/Social Science Content Standards curriculum in dual language programs. During the discussion, we will examine how we can use the books to introduce the major nations of California Native Americans in the classroom. We will also look at the Spanish exploration and colonization of California and the relationships among soldiers, missionaries, and Native Americans. We will visit the mapping, geographic basis, and economic factors that played a key role in the placement of the Spanish missions, as well as a description of the daily lives of the people who occupied them. We will end the workshop with an open conversation about the creation of the models and their educational purpose.

•Pushouts, Dropouts and Dreamers: Immigrant Youth in High School and Beyond

Each year, countless immigrant youth arrive in the U.S. with dreams of a better future for themselves and their families. Many arrive well into high school age, some with interrupted formal education and some as unaccompanied minors, with vast life experience and shouldering adult responsibilities, but still with needs of adolescents. Drawing on her recent book, Latino Immigrant Youth and Interrupted Schooling: Dropouts, Dreamers and Alternative Pathways to College, Marguerite Lukes will share personal experiences and stories of Latino immigrant youth who have enrolled — or tried to enroll — in high school in the U.S. She challenges the often negative and simplistic representations of this often overlooked group of students and explores ways in which policy and school structures impact their educational opportunities, work options, and integration into the cultural, social and economic mainstream of the U.S. and provides recommendations for policy and program design to better serve these youth.

The Teachers of Language Learners Learning Community (TL3C) is a federal grant project that establishes partnerships between the community college and partner LEAs that offer dual language immersion programs for language learners. There are more than thirty schools in Maricopa County, Arizona that offer DLI programs. In an effort to establish best practices for program design, the TL3C project established ten program assurances for all partner sites. These assurances are based off of Utah’s model for DLI programs and address program quality. This past spring, the DLI Assurances were presented to the TL3C Consortium in conjunction with Stages of Implementation. Ten schools submitted applications to partner with the community college committing to these assurances. The application process requires LEA leadership teams to negotiate the details of the DLI program. Connecting these assurances to the Stages of Implementation allows any LEA from the exploration to full implementation phase to participate in the project. The TL3C partner sites will be provided resources including teacher training, materials for STEM clubs, program consulting and language assessments to establish and maintain a cohesive program design. The model can be replicated in schools across the country.
Developing High-Level Academic Language and Vocabulary in Both Spanish and English Through Discussions of Fine Art Images

Barbara Place, Davis Curriculum and Research Institute

*Grade Level: K-12
Language: English
Strand: Arts Learning
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced*

This session demonstrates how K–8 teachers in Dual Language programs can develop high-level academic vocabulary and language and accelerated multiliteracy in English and Spanish. Students acquire vocabulary and language naturally through engaging discussions of fine art images in both Spanish and English. The images are from around the globe and across time, from ancient Greece and Egypt to Pre-Columbian art, to 21st century art. All participants will receive sample lessons in Spanish and English, along with the accompanying fine art images.

There is exciting work for all of us to do to make bilingualism and biliteracy a reality for all of California’s students. Join with Californians Together to hear about how the Local Control Funding Formula, the State Seal of Biliteracy, Biliteracy Pathway Awards, the Seal of Biliteracy extension to the university system, the Proposition on the 2016 Ballot to repeal and amend sections of Proposition 227 all present opportunities for each of us to work to change the policies and practices for educating English learners and all students. Now is the time for each of us to engage!!! Californians Together is a statewide coalition of 25 parent, teachers, administrators, board members and civil rights groups focused on improving policy and practice for English Learners.

The Benefit of Assessing Spanish-Speaking Students in English and Spanish

Carol Johnson, Renaissance Learning

Grade Level: K-8
Language: English
Strand: Commercial
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Educators sometimes question the value of assessing native Spanish-speaking students in Spanish when both instruction and exams are in English. The information gained, however, identifies for teachers the knowledge and skills students already have that they cannot yet demonstrate in English, and thus guides instruction.

Inspiring Writing and Oral Fluency for ELL and Struggling Students

Claudia Salinas, iLit

Grade Level: 3-8
Language: English
Strand: Commercial
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

As educators, we know the importance of personalized instruction, but how can we accomplish this and meet both ELD and content standards? One goal is to present how technology can be an instructional multiplier for students. The second goal is to examine how artificial intelligence can provide instant feedback on the writing and oral fluency of students and accelerate language acquisition. We will share the research and observe it in practice.

This moving and inspirational award winning documentary tells the story of Las Patronas, a group of women in La Patrona, a small Mexican town in Veracruz that is situated by the tracks of a train from Central America that brings many migrants North to the United States. Las Patronas have help immigrants since 1995 as they cross Mexico on their way to the U.S. Perched on high-speed trains, the young travelers reach out to grab bags of hot food that the women have prepared for them. This documentary is an intimate look at the daily lives that cross the borders of rural Mexico and Central America with the hope and dream of a better life. In the midst of a country at war, in a world where hope seems lost, Las Patronas rescue the core human value day after day by showing compassion and love for others.

ELL Compliance Made Easy

Customizable and Efficient - ELL Compliance software at Student, Campus, District levels all in one place.

Your Processes + Our Platform = Your ELL Compliance Software

You don’t need to change your current ELL processes to use our software. We customize our platform to fit your needs. Each district has a unique software environment built from our core platform.

At Project ELL, our mission is to provide school districts with the best ELL compliance data and analytic software system. Unlike other compliance software companies, all we do is ELL compliance and student achievement tracking.

Our management team has 20 years of educational, technology, and software experience. We use that experience to develop the ELL compliance product that districts need; efficient, streamlined and easy to use.

Project ELL Difference:
- Customizable Core Platform
- Designed specifically for ELL populations
- Save time and increase compliance

Making a Difference for English Learners

Throughout the United States, immigrant students and English learners are at great risk for school failure. High dropout rates and low levels of performance in most academic subjects are common particularly in many urban districts where schools lack the organization and expertise to meet student needs. This keynote address will present research on best practices for EL and immigrant students, and discuss the strategies utilized by schools that are succeeding in meeting their needs.

Pedro Noguera is the Distinguished Professor of Education at the Graduate School of Education and Information Studies at UCLA. His research focuses on the ways in which schools are influenced by social and economic conditions, as well as by demographic trends in local, regional and global contexts. He is the author of eleven books and over 200 articles and monographs. He serves on the boards of numerous national and local organizations and appears as a regular commentator on educational issues on CNN, MSNBC, National Public Radio, and other national news outlets. Prior to joining the faculty at UCLA he served as a tenured professor and holder of endowed chairs at New York University, Harvard University and the University of California, Berkeley. In 2014 he was elected to the National Academy of Education. Noguera recently received awards from the Center for the Advanced Study of the Behavioral Sciences, from the National Association of Secondary Principals, and from the McSilver Institute at NYU for his research and advocacy efforts aimed at fighting poverty.

Administrative Leadership Symposium

Friday, March 25, 2016 • 10:30 am-2:30 pm • Imperial A

PLANNING STRATEGICALLY FOR GLOBAL SUCCESS
Models for Sustainable Transformation

Participants who have pre-registered have priority seating. Lunch is provided.

Complimentary Registration is offered for Board Members, Superintendents and Assistant Superintendents. Other conference attendees who are district and site administrators and leaders are welcome to attend for a small registration fee.

OUTCOMES

• Create a space for like-minded leaders to convene and communicate around issues of 21st century excellence and equity for English Learners and other students.
• Engage participants in exploring strategic planning models for sustainable transformation that result in globally-competitive schools.
• Share processes for strategic integration and implementation of district and site plans to ensure 21st century equity and excellence for English Learners.
• Address the needs of English Learners through the LCAP process
• Generate enthusiasm and excitement about deeply engaging our communities in envisioning high-level success for our students and schools.

DESCRIPTION

The Administrator Leadership Symposium will provide district and site leaders with a window into strategic planning processes that are models for sustainable transformation of an entire school district so it can achieve 21st century multi-lingual excellence and equity for English Learners.

This year’s symposium attendees will hear from the leadership of three California districts about their progress in designing and implementing forward-thinking student-centered strategic initiatives that drive the Local Control and Accountability Plan and that have dramatically changed both the WHAT and the HOW of the districts’ work.

This session will provide an exciting space for district and site leaders to access key information, research, support, and structures to successfully implement globally-competitive schools and funding policies and practices that yield 21st century success for English Learners and all other students.

•Putting Students in the Driver’s Seat: 15 Ways to Engage and Accelerate Struggling Learners

Achieving more than a year’s academic growth in a year is the gold standard for educating students who are typically below grade level in school. As teachers and students confront the increased rigor of the Common Core State Standards, the search for classroom strategies that can engage and accelerate under-performing students takes on new importance. This session will focus on 15 academic and classroom management strategies that all have one trait in common: they put students in the driver’s seat. These practices promote more engagement, more higher-order thinking, and more self-motivated acceleration across the curriculum than “good teaching” while preventing the disadvantages of “learned dependence.” Come and add a new dimension to your teaching!

•Groomed For Success: Raising Kids Who Excel in School and Life.

Every parent wants to raise successful children who prosper in every area of their lives – in relationships, financially, emotionally and physically. No parent wants to see their children struggle through life. However, something has got to give to raise well-rounded children who are balanced and excel in every area of life. It requires intentional parenting and implementing habits very early on that prepare children for who they are to become. This presentation will discuss specific ideas and principles that parents can implement at home to groom their children to excel in school, pursue high paying careers but also live a balanced, fulfilled and satisfying life as adults.

•Songs, Games & Rhymes that Support Dual Language Learning

This highly interactive workshop demonstrates how to use songs, rhymes, rhythms and games in classrooms, on a daily basis, to enhance a child’s motor, language acquisition, literacy, social, cognitive and developmental skills, while promoting cultural diversity and positive self-esteem. Teachers learn to use music to develop phonemic awareness and vocabulary that leads toward fluency. The rich heritage of music from the Spanish-speaking world, used in both English and Spanish, teaches Latin American culture, history, and oral traditions. Teachers will practice methods of using movement, games, rhythm, rhyme, musical moods, call and response, differences and commonalities in culture/music, and be able to integrate these into their curriculum.

Instruction and assessment aligned with the new CCSS and English Language Proficiency (ELP) Standards require teachers to use authentic task-based practices. Reynolds School District in Oregon recently launched a sheltered instruction initiative in which all teachers in grades K-6 receive initial training and on-going implementation support in Project GLAD®. The district emphasizes Project GLAD® strategy titled Action Plan as a way to design authentic performance tasks that integrate ELP and Common Core State Standards with community-based learning. Many teams of general education teachers and ELD specialists were involved in collaborative planning, teaching, and assessment of Action Plans during the 2014-2015 school year and will continue this work during the 2015-2016 school year. The presentation describes the process and the results of this work.

Grade Level: All
Language: English
Strand: Curriculum & Instruction
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Quickly raise the reading levels of ELs who struggle with comprehension in English reading!! In the transition from native language proficiency to English, literacy can become a roadblock. Some students become strong decoders yet have great difficulty with vocabulary and comprehension. In this workshop participants will learn how to deliver three simple strategies focusing on comprehension through retell and summary, vocabulary development, and deriving meaning from complex sentence structures. These strategies quickly cut to the chase and can be implemented with any and all reading materials. They can be used to prevent comprehension problems from occurring and to intervene with students who have struggled and fallen behind! In a matter of months significant growth can be expected in the area of reading comprehension. As an added bonus, a highly effective strategy, “Precision Reading” will be introduced.

In an era where the rigor of academic performance and expectations have rapidly increased, it is imperative to set a tone and environment for learning to occur. Through the responsive classroom approach, educators can use the four sequential elements of morning meetings to integrate social and academic skills to promote an environment that validates students as individuals, set clear social and emotional expectations, and promote authentic learning experiences. In this interactive workshop, you will learn about the social, cognitive, and academic benefits of morning meetings in classrooms, the four sequential components of a morning meeting, and learn about different ways you can incorporate the thematic units that revolve around social justice issues or academic content foci. This workshop will also provide a hands-on experience in which participants will engage in a bilingual morning meeting that can be used in dual immersion classrooms as a way to bridge languages, promote transference, and increase pride in bilingualism.

Participants will leave with classroom activity strategies they can incorporate immediately to impact and direct student behavior.

The National Resource Center for Asian Languages (NRCAL) at California State University, Fullerton was established to improve the nation’s capacity for the teaching and learning of Asian languages including Vietnamese, Korean, Chinese, and Japanese, with an emphasis on proving support for Vietnamese-English dual language immersion programs. In this session, we use an interactive and multi-media platform to present resources and instructional materials available to support instructions for these less commonly taught languages.

Learn interactive techniques to differentiate instruction and motivate students to write content-rich compositions filled with textual evidence. Model opinion pieces with a clear point of view and organizational structure, fact-supported reasons, and a concluding section designed to tie the entire argument together. Guide informative/explanatory pieces that clearly and accurately convey information to increase reader’s knowledge and comprehension of a concept. Catapult Common Core writing with dynamic techniques that engage students in critical thinking immediately!

This workshop explores the role inquiry-based science has on ELD. An inquiry-based science curriculum will be described. The relationship between the learning and doing of science and the development of language skills, the affordances to use and develop language in authentic and meaningful ways, and the sophisticated language practices and skills that are developed through this approach will be highlighted. These ideas will be explored and exemplified through teachers’ sharing their classroom practices and experiences.

My indigenous Mexican students were hiding their home languages. Since the languages weren’t in our class books, they weren’t in the classroom. Whatever languages the teacher speaks represents power in the class. That power can be used to bring students’ home languages into positions of respect and joy. We will take time to prepare and find materials so we can implement changes in our Common Core classrooms on Monday. My examples from Mixtec working with students will help other students who speak minority languages.

Designated ELD is shifting to language development through constructive and rich communication. Students need to use language to do interesting and realistic things with language in order to learn it. Language was created to get things done, to communicate—and this is how they best learn it. This is where this MOOC starts. It focuses on how to design and teach lessons that are saturated with communication, and, where needed, develop grammar and vocabulary to support communication. Each session has a main idea video that presents the focal area to work on for the following month (e.g., listening, reading, writing/multimedia output, oral output, conversation), along with written model lessons that emphasize the focal area, analyses of the model lessons, basic written lessons to be strengthened by participants, and a sample “expert” modification of that lesson.

In 2012, California became the first state in the nation to award a State Seal of Biliteracy. This groundbreaking step was an acknowledgment of the economic and social value of multilingualism, the realities of a global century, and of the high level of academic achievement associated with attainment of literacy in multiple languages. This award also rounded out the very notion of college and career readiness for this diverse and global 21st century world. Another major change recognizing the benefits of biliteracy includes an increased number of two-way immersion programs in our public education system. Learn how two school districts provide a continuum of language development from grades pre-kindergarten through twelve with an emphasis on dual immersion. Identify multiple pathways that school districts and county offices of education may utilize in developing their comprehensive to biliteracy programs.

This Institute aims to familiarize the audience with La Clase Mágica (LCM): Generating Transworld Pedagogy in particularly it will address the La Clase Magica Biliteracy Technology after school program. We will discuss outcomes from these informal learning projects as a socially designed experiment that addresses ancestral knowledge, culture, ethnic identity, digital, and biliteracy for learners, teacher candidates, and families. The vision, planning, implementation, findings, and the sustainability of LCM for different settings will be presented. In addition to also learning about science and math through Meso-American sacred knowledge that has been passed down through generations from ancient Mayans—the project enables the bridging of old knowledge with new digital knowledge. Engaging families in these practices builds family leadership within the community and provides families ways to help their children at home—in other words bringing some peace to the process of disconnection that takes place with technology and children in many family households.

This highly interactive institute will provide teachers, administrators, and district leaders with guidance, strategies, and resources to successfully implement the CCSS and the California ELD standards and improve academic achievement for English learners and other diverse learners in the elementary grades as promoted in the California ELA/ELD Framework. California’s ELA/ELD Framework guides curriculum, instruction, and assessment for all TK-12th grade students and places a special emphasis on the learning needs of English learner (EL) students. The session will highlight a comprehensive approach to ELD, one that ensures EL students’ full access to rich learning in all disciplines (integrated ELD) complemented by a focused approach to language development during targeted instructional time (designated ELD). Presenters will first describe a blended professional learning model for teachers, instructional coaches, and principals and consultative work with district leadership teams, which has yielded powerful results in a large urban California school district. Presenters will then highlight four key areas for improving educational outcomes for EL students with practical examples of language and literacy instruction across the disciplines.

Educational leaders Shane Safir and Norma Martínez-Palmer have seen it all: leaders who push for too much, too soon; parents who feel misunderstood and don’t participate in schools; and teachers suffering from initiative fatigue. What is their solution for leaders at all levels? To listen. Yes, really listen. In today’s diverse schools, the need to listen is more urgent than ever, but few leaders listen well. Through interactive activities and applied learning, we will support you to:
• Explore your moral purpose and core values as a leader
• Analyze your school culture through three illuminating lenses
• Understand how the brain works and calls for a listening approach to leadership
• Practice the Six Stances of a Listening Leader. You will walk away with new tools and a reinvigorated sense of purpose and focus that can impact real change.

To elicit academic, emotional, affective, and cognitive engagement, research has demonstrated that it is imperative to connect instruction to the English learner’s social and cultural capital that comprised his or her personal identity. This presentation uses a “socially and culturally situated” perspective which means viewing objects, things, and events with an eye of taking into strong consideration the impact of one’s social background and connections and one’s established cultural ways of doing things. The presenters will discuss and demonstrate that everything that relates to teaching and learning is social and cultural because the set of knowledge, practices, dispositions, and even policies that are dealt with on a regular basis are deeply linked to who we are, how we view and work with others, and what common beliefs and practices we hang on to.

Thriving dual (two-way), one-way immersion, and other programs providing instruction in languages other than English have created a new set of demands for Bilingual Teacher Preparation Programs. School districts are looking for highly qualified biliterate teachers who can effectively teach language and content in an inclusive classroom where students not only become biliterate but also learn how to read the words and the world with critical eyes.

The demand for highly qualified biliterate teachers is increasing. Come and hear a panel of representatives from Bilingual Teacher Preparation Programs, the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CTC), districts, and other stakeholders as they respond to the following critical questions: a) How would you define a truly highly qualified biliterate teacher? b) How might Bilingual Teacher Preparation Programs and districts be able to support teachers, both pre-service and in-service, who are seeking a California Commission on Teacher Credentialing Bilingual Authorization in order for them to be well prepared to face the new expectations of dual (two-way), one-way immersion, and other programs providing instruction in languages other than English? c) What kind of programs, synergies, and partnerships among institutions could be fostered to ensure a greater supply of truly highly qualified biliterate teachers to face the new bilingual/biliterate challenges in the 21st century? This institute will create the space for Bilingual Teacher Preparation Programs and districts to interact with the panel of representatives to dialogue, analyze, and evaluate current practices as well as drafting action plans that will strengthen: a) best practices; b) inclusive leadership; and c) comprehensive edification of highly qualified biliterate teachers.

Common Core writing competencies and SBAC assessments require an agile command of academic English. Students in grades 3-6 must construct articulate responses to a variety of text-driven prompts using complex syntax, correct grammar and precise academic vocabulary. Under-prepared English learners lack the advanced language tools for standards-based writing tasks such as comparing, arguing, sequencing and analyzing informational text. Explore high-utility vocabulary categories and word lists for upper elementary achievement. Experience model lessons and observe video to understand how to deliver explicit, interactive academic vocabulary instruction that equips students with the confidence to deploy high-leverage words when constructing responses. •The 50:50 Two-Way Immersion Model: Points to Ponder Program planners and stakeholders need to make many decisions when designing or sustaining a 50:50 two-way program. Examples drawn from existing two-way programs will be shared. Issues related to staffing, allocation of time, and subject matter taught will be discussed along with the pros and cons of each possible choice. There are no right answers to these questions—so none will be provided! However, participants will have a chance to talk through how each of the possible choices might affect the success of their program.

Beyond Black ‘n White: Challenging Cultural Bias in Word Gap Studies--Toward Inclusive Language-Literacy Instruction

Two decades ago, Hart and Risley (1995) drew attention to what is today referred to as the (30-million) word gap, which has been cited time and time again as evidence of the need for more frequent interactions between parents or adult caregivers and young children. This word-gap research also undergirds much of the national discourse in favor of quality preschooling and early educational experiences—the foundation for lifelong success in school and beyond. True, across the U.S., children from lower income homes, including DLLs or so-called “ELLS” typically hear fewer Standard English (SE) and/or academic words by the time they enter school, and this might account for their relatively limited knowledge of academic English. As is to be expected, this tends to put them behind in school. Yet, exactly how this finding is surprising is unclear. Indeed, it would appear axiomatic that children from low-income homes—most of whom do not use Standard English (SE), the most vocabulary-expansive language variety would hear, understand, and use fewer words from this dialect. This presentation begins by i) identifying the cultural bias in word gap studies, ii) demonstrating the breadth and depth of concept knowledge that most DLLs and speakers of stigmatized dialects are privy to, and iii) illustrating how instruction and assessment rarely captures this vital knowledge.

Teaching students to read in two languages is complex and limited information is available to teachers. This session will explore the similarities and differences in teaching students to learn to read and write in Spanish and English. We will look at aspects of the two languages such as sentence structure, vocabulary and how diverse children create meaning from texts. Using this information, we will consider instructional implications using video and student work.

Research on the topic of school suspensions reflects the fact that African American students are suspended at a three to one ratio compared to Caucasian students, with students of color also statistically higher. Research indicates that even when factoring for class and gender, students of color are suspended at a higher rate. Research seemingly is unable to ascertain a reason for this disparity. Critical Race Theory (CRT) posits that, given the history of our country and our government, racism is an endemic part of our society. CRT builds a paradigm that allows individuals to reflect on how they interact with their students and their behavior.

•Opening Doors to Equity with Peer Observation Inquiry

Observation is one of the most powerful teaching skills especially in linguistically diverse classrooms. Learn how to lead observation inquiry (OI) a dynamic protocol for site-based, continuous professional learning that invigorates teachers while raising expectations and ownership for EL achievement. Lead observation inquiry to refine pedagogy, innovate and realize new possibilities for ELs. In this interactive session, gain tools to: (1) build trust and buy-in for peer observation; (2) focus observations on the student data that drive deep reflection; (3) build a culture of shared ownership; and (4) fuel continuous inquiry about impact. Through video analysis and simulations, hone your observation superpowers and learn a non-evaluative, trust-building protocol you can take back to your school to lead teams in observation inquiry for equity.

Handouts include ready-to-use resources from Tonya Ward Singer’s bestselling Corwin book, Opening Doors to Equity: A Practical Guide to Observation-Based Professional Learning. Book signing will follow session.

David Hayes-Bautista, CESLAC, David Geffen School of Medicine, UCLA

Grade Level: All
Language: English
Strand: Multicultural/Diversity Education
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

The annual commemoration of the Cinco de Mayo was created by Latinos living in California during the early days of the American Civil War, as a public statement that Latinos supported Lincoln’s goals of the abolition of slavery, racial equality in civil rights and government “of the people, by the people and for the people.” Latinos voted for Lincoln, and joined the United States Army, Cavalry and Navy in the fight to end slavery and white supremacy. Napoleon II, Emperor of the French, invaded Mexico in his quest to eliminate a constitutional government led by a democratically elected president, Benito Juarez, and install a monarch, Maximilian of Austria, who would be friendly to the rebelling slave states. But the French army was stopped in its tracks at the Battle of Puebla, fought on May 5, 1862, and they were not able to reach Mexico City to create an ally of the slave states during the early years of the Civil War. When news arrived in California of the French defeat, Latinos in California celebrated the victory with spontaneous celebrations, then institutionalized the celebration every Cinco de Mayo of every year, and the Cinco de Mayo became a symbol to Latinos of their goals of preserving freedom, racial equality and democracy in both the United States and Mexico.

• Sharing Students, Sharing Responsibility, Sharing Strengths: Adapting High School Instruction to Better serve ELs

3:15 PM - 4:30 PM
Room: Tower 3-Union Square 15/16

Marguerite Lukes, Internationals Network for Public Schools
Leslie Plettner, Internationals Network for Public Schools

It is important that parents get involved in their children’s school and be advocates for children. Get involved in ELAC, DELAC, SSC, Governance and PTA/PTO. Go to school Board Meetings and voice your concerns about education. Give your opinions and suggestions. Remember you are your child’s first teacher and you know when something is not right. Try to get other parents involved. Es importante que los padres se involucren en la escuela de sus hijos/as y que aboguen por los estudiantes. Involucren en ELAC, DELAC, SSC, Governance y PTA/PTO. Vayan a la junta de la Mesa Directiva del Distrito y hablen de sus preocupaciones sobre la educacion. Den sus opiniones y sujecencias. Recuerden que son ustedes los primeros maestros de sus hijos y saben cuando algo no esta bien. Traten de involucrar a mas padres.

Common Core and English Language Development state standards ask for a new approach to teaching that requires out of the box thinking. Through reading and writing, educators in the workshop will understand how to bring it all together by using research based approaches like SIOP. The goal to provide high quality instruction for all students can be achieved by creating lessons that use content in daily reading and writing lessons. Motivation, engagement, and creativity are just a few tools that I utilize to reach each student and help them achieve their academic goals. Let’s create a portfolio of ideas to take back to our classroom and use.

How can we change the game in language and literacy acquisition for all our diverse students? Find out how the TPACK framework and SAMR model can inform our instruction and lead to highly effective, intentional teaching with digital resources. This session emphasizes metacognition and text-dependent reading strategies, taken to another level, as students apply strategies in both print and digital formats, and in texts across the content areas. Example lessons showcase best practices in gradual release and teaching for transfer. In this hands-on session, educators explore supportive digital environments that motivate students, foster engagement and promote language and literacy acquisition, including close reading of complex text. By “teaching above the line”, we create authentic language and literacy experiences, while addressing 21st Century skills.

Thinking Maps serve as a common visual language used in building a communication and comprehension bridge between languages. In the journey of learning a new language, Thinking Maps serve as visuals that, not only help make lessons comprehensible but offer students a way to express their learning. They have proven effective for helping students, including EL's, reach greater academic success and language proficiency. Educators will experience and understand how Thinking Maps will improve core instruction while dramatically increasing student engagement. Teachers finally have the tools for teaching content, language and critical thinking skills. Develop tomorrow’s learners by transforming today’s instruction.

El perfil cultural de un educador proficiente en programas de la educación migratoria: Cómo trabajar con familias migrantes y cómo aprender de sus experiencias

Reyes Quezada, University of San Diego
Fernando Rodríguez-Valls, CSU Fullerton

Esta presentación se enfoca en cómo podemos adquirir destrezas culturales que nos hagan ser proficientes tanto a nivel práctico como a nivel normativo y de leyes. El objetivo es cerrar la brecha que existe entre estudiantes migrantes y estudiantes que no son migrantes en términos de rendimiento académico y de integración en la comunidad. Resultados: La audiencia tendrá la oportunidad de evaluar en qué lugar están ellos - las escuelas donde trabajan o a dónde van sus hijos. Van a evaluar los distritos escolares, las oficinas del condado y las oficinas del programa de educación migrante en lo que se refiere al perfil cultural de un educador proficiente y los cinco principios que definen este nivel de conocimiento. La audiencia establecerá como se puede planificar e implementar un entorno de eficacia cultural para estudiantes migrantes y sus familias. La audiencia compartirá los retos y sus logros así como otros recursos que definen el perfil cultural de un educador proficiente y como este nivel de conocimiento se convierte en una herramienta indispensable para los administradores de las escuelas y los líderes de la comunidad.

ABRAZOS tells the transformational journey of a group of U.S. citizen children, sons and daughters of undocumented immigrants, who travel from Minnesota to Guatemala to meet their grandparents -- and in some instances their siblings -- for the first time.

There are 4.5 million other U.S. citizen children who, like them, have at least one undocumented parent and are part of mixed-status families, ABRAZOS is the story of 14 of them. Even though they are entitled to the same rights and freedoms as all Americans, many of these children are growing up with the constant fear of separation from their parents. In addition, never having met their grandparents, they don’t have a clear sense of who they are or their heritage. ABRAZOS is a film that reflects the hopes, dreams and fears, of these transnational-families who are able to embrace each other, share stories, strengthen traditions and begin to reconstruct their cultural identity.

Director & producer, Luis Argueta, will introduce his film and be present for a Q&A session after the screening.

AUGUST
The Central Valley Bad Boys

AUGUST has been entertaining people in the South San Joaquin Valley since 1974. The band will be celebrating our 40th anniversary this year and is still going strong. Quite a musical accomplishment! Our mixture of Old School, Latin Rock, traditional Spanish, and Top 40 music has been our signature to success. When AUGUST is playing, everyone is definitely dancing!

AUGUST has been rocking venues large and small. Experience in large venues has included opening up for such artists as The Gap Band, Frankie Valli, The Four Seasons, El Chicano and Malo, to just name a few. Our recent gigs have included Paul Rodriguez Comedy Show After Party 2013, Cancer Awareness Golf Tournament, along with many private parties, wedding dances, community fundraisers, etc.

Using the epistemology of the sacred sciences, which encompasses notions of spirituality, transcendence, harmonic balance and synchronization, and evolution, The La Clase Mágica: Nepohualtzitzin Ethnomathematics (Nepo) Club is a collaborative project currently under the umbrella of the La Clase Mágica. This club is designed to support bilingual and generalist teachers and their students using culturally efficacious strategies and materials. The La Clase Mágica Nepohualtzitzin Club is an after school informal learning club designed to improve student capacity and confidence in mathematics. Club participants develop the ability to think and apply reasoning skills, improve concentration, focus and memory, through association. The club combines both the use of the ancient Nepohualtzitzin and modern tools to engage students. Using interactive hands-on activities and media, participants will learn how to use the Nepohualtzitzin and what they need to know in order to start a club at their school sites.

• Get Ready for the SB1174 Vote! A New Language Education Policy for California

9:00 AM - 12:00 PM
Room: Tower 3-Golden Gate 6

Grace McField, CSU San Marcos

Grade Level: All
Language: English
Strand: Advocacy & Engagement
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

What are the three key factors that led to the passage of Proposition 227 (1997-8) that instituted English-only instruction for all intents and purposes in California? How can individuals, parents, educators, and community members and organizations come together to spread the word about A) common community goals, B) the consistent research on bilingual education, and C) the need to support a multilingual education policy that is fit for California, the world’s eighth largest economy? Come join this community forum that will focus on advocating for Senate Bill 1174, which will update the badly outdated Proposition 227. Engage in strategically planning to support SB1174, which will allow local control for schools to offer multilingual programs. Support spreading awareness about California’s opportunity to vote to help schools teach language skills to address the academic, economic, health, military/national security and social needs of our golden state and beyond!

•Music to Inspire Dual Language Acquisition
Singing has long been a way for learning language and is an excellent tool for enhancing language arts lessons. Dual language songs help children acquire new vocabulary in multiple languages, promote self-esteem and provide opportunities for teaching a variety of subjects. The interactive presentation demonstrates how educators can incorporate music and original songs to teach geography, improve listening and cognitive skills, and introduce a variety of musical genres and styles.
Neuropedagogy: Teaching the Way the Brain Learns Best

Victor Tellez, Compton USD

Grade Level: All
Language: English
Strand: Professional Development/Teacher Preparation
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

We have all used neuropedagogy, or brain friendly teaching, in one way or another. Sometimes we have not been aware of it. Other times, without being aware of it, we have taught in direct opposition to how the brain learns best. In this presentation we will address what research says about learning. We will look at such areas as attention, literacy development, and memory. We will also look at a much neglected aspect of neuropedagogy-- the role of exercise in learning.

HERENCIA Y LEGADO: Parent Empowerment for Biliteracy

Alma Castro, CSU Long Beach

Grade Level: All

Strand: Parent and Community Engagement
Audience Level: Experienced

In this workshop, results of a dissertation study I conducted in partnership with CSULB, narrates the experiences of EL high school students and staff highlighting untapped linguistic resources of EL students. Perceptions about the impact of a voluntary assets-based policy, the Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD) Seal of Biliteracy Awards Program are uncovered. The principal focus of this study was to explore Latino students’ pursuit of language recognition and the perceived academic impact associated with receiving this award. Altogether, the LAUSD and State Seal of Biliteracy legitimize non-dominant languages, granting linguistic cultural capital, power, and dismantling language imperialism. This initiative further encourages students to study multiple languages in preparation to face the demands of a global landscape. The focus of this workshop is to empower parents by validating a native tongue for crafting promising academic pathways for ELs that are falling off the education pipeline. Despite the myriad of academic challenges Latino students face, they possess defined strengths. Overwhelmingly, research amplifies the benefits of capitalizing on a native language as a resource towards acquiring proficiency in a second language.

Como padres de familia, si no hemos resuelto los problemas de nuestra niñez, la forma en que criamos a nuestros hijos será afectada y puede dañar la relación con ellos. Todos los padres queremos que nuestros hijos sean exitosos y felices, pero a veces nuestras acciones los afectan negativamente. En este taller, los guiaré a través de sus recuerdos y sus propias experiencias de la infancia- lo bueno y lo malo. Juntos analizaremos como esas experiencias han afectado la dinámica y la relación con sus propios hijos. Hablaremos de los cambios en nuestras vidas. Luego, aprenderemos maneras de resolver diferentes conductas negativas. También les guiaré como desarrollar mejores métodos para comunicar sus valores reales tales como la honestidad, la compasión, la bondad, y la responsabilidad entre otros. ¡Nuestros hijos triunfarán en la escuela y en la vida como resultado de nuestro cambio!

Using current and ongoing research this presentation will describe and discuss a Dual Language Immersion program that enrolls three to five year old Special Education students in California’s Central Valley. Instances of language learning among the students will be viewed through the frameworks of Translanguaging and the Third Space in order to provide teachers with real life classroom examples and to promote a positive discourse of these frameworks within early and special education.
We want to share and get your feedback about a new bilingual education book Rethinking Schools will publish soon. We define bilingual ed as occurring in instructional settings where teaching and learning take place in two languages with the objective of developing long-term biliteracy. This book will share articles that describe K–12 bilingual classroom teaching and curriculum—those that are social justice oriented, story–rich, replicable and critical–teaching from a social justice perspective. This is about teachers sharing with teachers and is focused on students’ voices!

Participants will experience first hand the activities/strategies that are being implements in the K-3 classrooms to exemplify the changes in teaching and learning in the Common Core era. Video clips, students’ work will be shared along with detailed discussions on the implementation to meet the needs of all students, especially English learners.

Administradores, maestros y padres cada uno somos un factor esencial para el éxito académico del estudiante. Los padres latinos han expresado el deseo de apoyar a sus hijos, pero no saben como hacerlo. Amy Costales, University of Oregon

Grade Level: 6-12, College/University, Adult Education
Language: English, Spanish
Strand: University Programs
Audience Level: New to Field/Experienced

Presenter will present digital story-telling projects of University of Oregon Spanish Heritage Language Students that document their family and personal history. The students all grew up in Spanish-speaking families/communities and participated in a course that combines U.S Latino History and U.S. Latino Literature with an introduction to ethnic studies and sociolinguistics. The course allows students to recuperate and/or further develop Spanish-language skills while supporting a positive sense of identity in all its facets. A positive sense of identity relates to more positive achievement, academic motivation and engagement. In the digital storytelling projects students respond to the course material they find most compelling. Topics include immigration, status in the U.S., questioning of the meaning of success, sexual orientation, family and personal triumphs, personal talents, social barriers, reception of Spanglish, gender identity, etc. The students become participatory members in the production of the representation of Latinos, their topics being themselves.
Research Dual Language Immersion (DLI) programs show that students in DLI programs outperform their peers in measures of academic achievement and in their levels of biliteracy by the time they complete elementary school and continue on this trajectory through the remainder of their school career. Often, administrators, teachers, parents, and community members ask, “How can we be sure that our DLI program is on the right path to provide our students the same outcomes as we see in the research?” It is not uncommon for DLI programs to be dismantled after only 4 or 5 years due to uncertainty that the program can deliver these positive outcomes. This presentation explores some of the challenges in and benefits of considering a system to map the trajectory of established programs whose students do attain the promise of high levels of academic achievement and biliteracy. This is important in the current context with the exponential growth of DLI programs, as it has the potential to inform the development of new and refinement of experienced programs so that administrators, teachers, parents, and community members can be assured that the students will also have the opportunity to reach the promise of high levels of academic achievement and biliteracy.

CABE 2016 Corazón Board Award

Charlene Fried
Teacher
Baldwin Park USD

The CABE Board of Directors is proud to award the Corazón Award to Charlene Fried. The Board has been moved and motivated by her tireless work and support for her students over many years. They have been deeply touched and impressed to see the love and compassion she provides her students as she works tirelessly and advocates for them. Over the years, many of her students have won the CABE student writing contest, and have gone on to successful university experiences and careers. Charlene Fried has had such a powerful, passionate impact on the lives of English Learners as well as her colleagues and partners both in her district and throughout the state.

A San Francisco native, Charlene landed her first teaching job in Baldwin Park Unified School District, and still teaches there today. A graduate of San Francisco State University, she began teaching at Sierra Vista High School. As many students began to cross the border from Mexico and settle in Baldwin Park, she set up the first bilingual program at the school. She went on to obtain her MS in Bilingual Cross-Cultural Education and her Bilingual Cross-Cultural Specialist Credential from Pepperdine University. In addition to teaching in Baldwin Park, Charlene teaches in the credential programs at both CSU Los Angeles and Loyola Marymount University. She continues to study and train others; her dream is to provide all students with the opportunity to become bilingual and biliterate and have access to university and career opportunities.

Charlene has received numerous awards during her career including CABE Teacher of the Year (1997) and NABE Teacher of the Year (1998). She was also honored as the Los Angeles County Teacher of the Year. She has presented keynote and featured presentations at conferences including CABE, NABE, CEEEA, CATESOL and others. In addition to her awards, she is most proud that her students have won numerous awards from organizations including CABE, NABE, LACOE, LULAC, Hispanic National Scholarship, Questbridge Scholars, and others. She attributes her own success to her students and feels both thankful and grateful to have been blessed with so many wonderful students over the years she has taught.

CABE has been an important part of Charlene's professional life. She states, “During those years of Proposition 227, when we fought so fervently for the rights of our students to study in their home languages, it was my relationship with CABE that gave me the strength and courage to continue the fight.”
CABE 2016 Community Voice Board Award

Jane Kim
Supervisor
City of San Francisco

The CABE Board of Directors is proud to present the Community Voice Award to Jane Kim. Her advocacy and support of the richly diverse cultural and linguistic community in San Francisco has been truly noteworthy. In her past role as Trustee for the San Francisco Unified School District, and now in her role on the San Francisco Board of Supervisors, she stands out as a passionate and powerful voice who advocates for students, families, schools, businesses, and all members of the San Francisco community. Her leadership has made a difference in many ways—advocating for equitable educational and linguistic programs in San Francisco USD schools, standing up for the right of fair, affordable and safe housing for educators and all community members, understanding and representing the wide range of needs in her district, being inclusive of youth voice in government issues, and working tirelessly to move city government to make a positive difference in the lives of her community.

Jane Kim is a current San Francisco Supervisor and candidate for State Senate, District 11. Jane is a proven progressive leader who has fought to expand access to affordable housing, protect renters, close the income gap and improve public schools. Jane understands that the major challenges we face are not just local issues—they are statewide and even national issues and require support at the broadest levels. She is running for Senate to ensure we have a representative in Sacramento who will work to address those challenges—housing the homeless, creating more affordable housing, family-sustaining jobs, relieving transit gridlock and strengthening public education.

Jane Kim was elected in 2010 to represent District 6 on the Board of Supervisors, which includes South of Market, Mission Bay, the Tenderloin, Civic Center, Treasure Island and Yerba Buena Island. She is the first Korean-American elected official in San Francisco and the first Asian-American candidate to win a non-historically Asian district in the city. She also continues to advocate for our children and youth—serving as Chair of the City and School District Committee. Passionate about public education, Jane Kim is leading the way to ensure that San Francisco is increasing resources and money for its schools while supporting partnerships with the San Francisco Unified School District. Jane believes that we have a responsibility to invest in the education and success of our youth. California currently ranks 49th in per pupil spending, with only Mississippi trailing behind.

In 2006, Jane Kim was the top vote-getter elected citywide to the San Francisco USD Board of Education. Later, her colleagues would unanimously vote her to serve as the President of that body. While on the school board, Jane worked to close the achievement and opportunity gap, redesign the student assignment process to give some preference for families who want to enroll their children in neighborhood schools, and promoted policies that decreased suspension and expulsion rates.
CABE 2016 Legacy Board Award

Lily Wong Fillmore
Researcher, Professor Emerita
UC Berkeley

The CABE Board of Directors is proud to present the Legacy award to Lily Wong Fillmore in honor of her many years of ongoing research and support for English Learners and language minority students. Lily has had such a powerful, passionate presence in the field as seen by both her theoretical and practical approach to providing the most effective instructional support to build educators’ knowledge and confidence to serve and address the needs of our students. Her work has made tremendous strides in affecting outcomes for our students in California as well as throughout the nation as she has addressed the needs of English Learners as well as students of varying dialects and language origins. Her research and scholarly work has impacted thousands of educators and will continue to do so in years to come.

Lily Wong Fillmore is Professor Emerita from the Graduate School of Education, UC Berkeley. Much of her research has focused on issues related to the education of language minority students in American schools. Her professional specializations are second language learning and teaching, the education of language minority students, and the socialization of children for learning across cultures. Over the past thirty years, she has conducted studies of second language learners in school settings. Her most recent study is of the language resources of Alaskan Native children in several Yup’ik villages along the Yukon River. She is currently engaged in studies of the academic language demands of high stakes tests such as California’s High School Exit Examination and the SAT-9, and considerations of what kind of instructional support is needed by English learners and speakers of English dialects (e.g., African-American English, Alaskan Village English, Chicano English, etc.) to deal successfully with such tests and other uses of academic language. Another area of work that has engaged Fillmore in the past decade is the revitalization of indigenous languages in the Southwest. She has been working with leaders in several pueblos in New Mexico in support of language programs for the teaching of heritage languages to the children in those communities.
José Robles Guzmán is pursuing a Bilingual teaching credential at CSU, Stanislaus. As a young immigrant student from México who spoke no English, José had difficulty in adjusting to a new culture and environment. His parents worked long hours in the fields making it difficult to help him with his homework or answer any school questions he might have had. Fortunately for José, he had some bilingual teachers that went the extra mile in order to ensure that he learned English and did well academically. These teachers often stayed after school to help him with his homework and always encouraged him. They gave him the support and confidence he needed in order to believe that he could learn English and do well.

It was bilingual teachers like these that inspired him as a young child and helped him see just how much of a difference bilingual educators could make in the lives of children. These teachers inspired him to pursue a teaching career and seek a BCLAD teaching credential in hopes that he will, in turn, inspire his future students. While learning English is essential, José feels that it is more powerful to be able to speak two languages. José believes that bilingual education programs coupled with caring and passionate bilingual teachers will allow students to become biliterate and help prepare them to be the new leaders of tomorrow in a continually diverse society.

CARLOS PINICHET AWARD

Gabriela Gómez
Region 1

Gabriela Gómez is pursuing a Multiple Subject Teaching Credential at the University of California, Irvine. She is completing her student teaching assignment in a first grade Spanish dual immersion class. Gabriela comes from a family of Mexican immigrants. In her home, Spanish is the only language spoken. She was taught from a very young age that her native language was very important and that she had to hold on to it like a precious gift. However, when she started school, her native language was not acknowledged and she was expected to speak only English. She credits her parents for stressing the importance of Spanish to her being able to keep her Spanish.

Gabriela wants to be a bilingual teacher to preserve and celebrate the language diversity that others bring to this country. She believes that being bilingual is a very important skill and one that everyone will need in the future. Gabriela wants to be part of the bridge that helps future adults communicate and connect with each other through the gift of language. She thanks her parents for the gift of the Spanish language and that she will be able to pass on that gift of language to others.

CABE congratulates Gabriela Gómez
On his accomplishments and on receiving the Carlos Pinichet Teachership Award!
Caren Pantoja Pérez is pursuing a bilingual teaching credential at CSU, Stanislaus. Caren grew up in an agricultural community where her parents worked from sunrise to sunset harvesting vegetables in the Salinas Valley. The fields became her second home. When she was just five years old, she would get picked up from school and taken to the nearby green peas fields where her parents worked. Unable to afford a babysitter and with her older siblings still at school, she loved playing in the dirt by herself. She also loved helping her parents pick peas. Her father would take off his hat and give it to her as her container to put the peas. It wasn’t until much later in life that she realized what her father sacrificed by going hatless in the hot sun. Today, Caren still returns to the fields in the summers to work with her parents to pay for her tuition and other expenses.

As an English learner, Caren struggled her entire childhood with the language and culture. As a future bilingual teacher, Caren wants to support her students in both their first and second languages. She believes that a student’s native tongue should be appreciated, enhanced, enriched and celebrated. This is the reason that bilingual education is so important for those communities. Caren hopes to return to her community in Greenfield, CA to teach. She shares that Greenfield has a large population of families from Oaxaca, México who speak a language other than Spanish or English. She wants to support these children in becoming trilingual!

CABE congratulates Caren Liset Pantoja Pérez on her accomplishments and on receiving the Alma Flor Ada Teachership Award!
Diana Rico Zamora is a teacher candidate in the Bilingual Authorization Program at CSU, San Marcos and is also in the Dual Language Cohort in the Multiple Subject Credential program. She is also completing an additional certification to teach Spanish in Secondary Education. In 2014, Diana completed her BA in Education with a designation of “Magna Cum Laude” signifying an academic degree awarded with great honor.

Diana came to the United States from México at age 12. Adapting to a new culture and language created difficult challenges in her educational journey. Despite her best efforts in her ELD classes in 7th grade, she found herself struggling. It was this difficult pursuit to learn English that instilled in her the determination to become a bilingual teacher in order to help future students. As a bilingual teacher, she wants to inspire students to value and respect all cultures and languages. She wants to create an equitable and socially just environment where students feel confident and proud of their identities and are valued for being bilingual.

Diana believes that bilingual programs are critical settings for student success. She believes that bilingual education promotes and emphasizes multiculturalism and, as a result, motivates students to excel academically. Her life experiences have taught her that being bilingual is a valuable quality. As a future teacher, she plans to convey this knowledge and passion to her students.

CABE congratulates Diana Rico Zamora
On her accomplishments and on receiving the
F. Isabel Campoy Teachership Award!
Laura Mendoza is pursuing a Bilingual Teaching Credential at CSU, Channel Islands. She is currently finishing her student teaching in a second and third grade bilingual combination classroom. Laura thinks, dreams, and speaks in two languages. She has two cultures that come with two beautiful languages: Spanish and English. As a child, translating for her parents meant transforming into different personas: a teacher, doctor, police officer, lawyer, etc. Laura grew up in the low-income housing projects where Spanish was the primary language. Being bilingual, she was always able to help her community to bridge the two languages. She believes that being bilingual is a way to connect people from different cultures.

Her passion to become a bilingual teacher began when her kindergarten teacher asked, “What do you want to be when you grow up?” Her answer never changed – “a teacher.” Laura’s goals as a bilingual teacher are to motivate, guide, and give all her students the necessary resources they need to achieve their educational goals. As her father always told her, “Él que hable dos idiomas vale por dos/He who speaks two languages is worth two.”

CABE congratulates Laura Mendoza On her accomplishments and on receiving the CABE Biliteracy Teachership Award!
CABE is proud to award the CABE 2016 Seal of Excellence Award to Anacapa Middle School. Ventura Unified School District’s outstanding two-way immersion (TWI) program is one of less than 40 K-12 programs in the country and Anacapa Middle School is proud to be the 6th through 8th grade component of this high quality, rigorous, and innovative dual language program. Three elementary schools feed into this TWI program and from Anacapa, many TWI students continue in the program at Ventura High School. The TWI program of approximately 154 students of 850 functions as a strand within the larger school. English Learners not in the TWI program are enrolled in the Structured English Immersion (SEI) strand which provides high quality instruction in English for all students. The goals of the Anacapa TWI program are to: 1. Support students’ primary language; 2. Provide outstanding, structured academic instruction in English Language Development to help students attain proficiency in English and content areas; 3. Foster cultural awareness and cultural proficiency; and 4. Ensure that students acquire technological, academic, and social skills and knowledge necessary to be successful in the 21st century. TWI students at Anacapa receive 50% of their core subjects in Spanish and 50% in English. Anacapa’s award winning curriculum has been created by TWI teachers aligned with CCSS, NGSS, California State Standards and ELD Standards. These interdisciplinary, scaffolded and differentiated project-based units integrate art, technology, peace education, and other content areas. Within the Spanish instructional block students are offered enrichment experiences that include robotics, technology, engineering, dance, music, visual art, and environmental science. English Language Arts teachers are well trained in English Language Development (ELD) standards and are aware of the linguistic needs of our English Learners. The teachers of both languages collaborate closely and are extremely intentional in targeting and “double dipping” standards.

Anacapa’s TWI teachers are active participants in and leaders of professional development. Among these teachers, there is a CABE Two-Way Teacher of the Year, a CUE new teacher nominee, a Fulbright scholar, and a CABE Teacher-ship Recipient. Three have presented at national conferences and four have presented at a variety of local conferences. They are all lifelong learners who are willing to share their knowledge as they continue to grow and learn as educators.

Data results confirm the success of this program. Anacapa’s API showed consistent growth for students overall. Dr. Kathryn Lindholm-Leary reviewed Anacapa’s data, and concluded that students in TWI did as well or better than students who were not in the TWI program. Newcomers who are Emerging in English have the possibility of a schedule in which ALL of their teachers speak Spanish and are therefore able to communicate both with the students and their parents. Anacapa strives to ensure that ALL parents know that they are truly valued, and this is especially true of parents of English Learners. The TWI program actively promotes and supports cultural experiences and parent nights that highlight diversity and offer a wide variety of opportunities throughout the year for the parents of English Learners to take leadership positions.

CABE is proud to award the CABE 2016 Seal of Excellence Award to Burbank Elementary School. Burbank Elementary School is in Hayward, California, one of a group of cities that line the eastern shore of San Francisco Bay. Historically a community of immigrants, Hayward (approximate pop. 151,000) is one of the most diverse cities in California. A 2009 state grant (Quality Education Improvement Act) and a 2010 School Improvement Grant supported their journey to excellence, but they attribute their success to the collective dedication of teachers, administrators, staff, students and parents taking on and sustaining deep and meaningful school change. Burbank remains the highest performing school in Hayward Unified School District and was the English Learner (EL) School Site of the Year in 2012 in Alameda County. A Burbank teacher was named the 2012 district teacher of the year.

At Burbank, a commitment to the core values of educating the whole child and dual language instruction (DLI) guides the implementation of the California core curricular standards. A clear team structure, including vertical and horizontal teaming with grade level team leaders/facilitators and support from coaches and administrators, exemplifies how they maintain adult capacity for change. Administrators share leadership with coaches, teachers, parents and staff. The administrators and coaches model key strategies, provide useful feedback to teachers, and empower teachers in grade levels to have conversations about practice. Their strong and shared commitment is anchored in a community of adults who work together for the common good. Burbank’s Teacher Lab Site Program began in 2014 when Hayward Unified School District implemented its Lab Site Teacher program. As part of the implementation of the District’s Core Curriculum Instructional Framework (CCIF) which mapped the District’s implementation of the Common Core standards, and to meet the goals to: 1) Recruit and retain highly effective skilled professionals; and 2. Ensure all students master the Common Core State Standards, the District solicited applications from teachers to be Lab Site Teachers who would 1) attend professional development on the CCIF Lesson Design, 2) work with a District coach during the school year, 3) participate in monthly after school network meetings, and 4) open their classrooms to be demonstration classrooms for other teachers in their school to see lessons based on Common Core Standards. The District provided substitute teachers for teacher observations, district professional development on CCIF, and a stipend for each Lab Site teacher. With these foundational resources, each school was free to design their own Lab Site Program. The Burbank Teacher Lab Site consists of four teachers who conduct demonstration lessons, facilitate observations, and participate in debriefing sessions. Through surveys, teachers confirmed the quality and practical usefulness of this model of professional development.

At Burbank, assessment drives instruction. Using a portfolio of assessments has been a key catalyst for their rapid growth. Burbank was the highest scoring school among elementary schools in the District, with 48% of students meeting or exceeding standards in English Language Arts. Burbank was recently identified by Innovate Public Schools as “a 2014-15 Top Performing Bay Area School for Low-income Latino Students in English”. They received this distinction because their school “achieved better results on the 2014-2015 state tests for [typically] underserved students than the state’s overall average for all students”.

Burbank has cultivated relationships with parents through an active Parent Center, which occupies a central hub of the school and is managed by support staff and PTA volunteers. Most parent meetings, opportunities for learning, and celebrations take place in the Parent Center. Through the Parent Center, Burbank recruits volunteers and parent leaders, and fosters understanding between and among stakeholders. In terms of shared leadership with parents for school outcomes, Burbank has three main decision making bodies: School Site Council, English Learner Advisory Committee (ELAC), and Site Based Decision-making team. Within these three teams, parents voice their opinions and vote on such topics as budget, staffing, student learning opportunities, facilities, and parent involvement.

CABE is proud to award the CABE 2016 Seal of Excellence Award to Las Animas Elementary School. Las Animas, located in Gilroy, California, serves 727 students in grades K-5. This rural, agricultural area is known as the “Garlic Capital of the World” due to the annual Garlic Festival. Las Animas serves a student population that is 68% Hispanic, 19% White, 4% Asian, 3% Filipino, and 7% other ethnicities. 43% of the students are English Learners (EL) or reclassified English Learners (RFEP), 5% are special needs students and 39% are socioeconomically disadvantaged. To meet the needs of this diverse population, Las Animas offers different types of programs: a successful K-5 Spanish/English 50:50 Dual Immersion (DI) program; a strong K-5 Structured English Immersion (SEI) program; and a special education program serving K-5 students on the autism spectrum. With support from administration, teachers, and parents, the Dual Immersion program has expanded into the middle and high school levels creating a successful district K-12 DI strand.

District adopted benchmark data are used for formative assessment that drives professional development. These same data are used for evaluation of student outcomes. On the 2014-2015 STAR reading benchmark assessments, ELs in DI outperformed other Las Animas ELs. The ELs in DI also outperformed the non-DI English only students. In addition to formative data, summative data are used as a cornerstone for evaluating the program’s student outcomes. These measures include CAASPP in English Language Arts and Math, CELDT, and Aprenda 3 in Spanish reading. These data are discussed school wide and at each grade level and contribute to the establishment of improvement plans through the Professional Learning Community process. Results on the 2015 CAASPP showed that a higher percentage of Las Animas students met/exceeded proficiency expectations in both Language Arts and Math than the district, county and state percentages. This applied to all subgroups as well. In addition, all DI program students became bilingual and biliterate in Spanish and English.

Las Animas’ Dual Immersion Program is a 50:50 model. DI students are admitted into the program based on parent request and space availability. In order to maintain a balance of languages, students are selected by lottery. Teachers team teach with one teacher serving as the Spanish model and the other serving as the English model. Each student has two teachers and moves from one classroom (e.g., Spanish classroom) to the other (e.g., English classroom) to receive content area instruction in the language of the model teacher. The level of teacher collaboration is extremely high as teachers take students through the grade level curriculum according to their Common Core-aligned units of study. Teachers take care to build on transferable skills and explicitly teach non-transferable skills as students progress through the grades.

Las Animas supports high levels of parent/community engagement by providing multiple ways for parents to involved. Collaborative decision-making through School Site Council, English Learner Advisory Council, and other activities are offered. Parents are involved in instructional support activities through volunteering, family nights, and leadership training. Many of their parents do not speak English, but they volunteer and are extremely involved!

CABE is proud to award the CABE 2016 Seal of Excellence Award to Meadow Homes Elementary School. Meadow Homes Elementary is the largest elementary school in the Mt. Diablo Unified School District with 881 students, approximately 700 of which are English Learners (EL). The school is located in the densely populated “Monument Corridor” community in the city of Concord, and is home to a large number of foreign-born immigrants (about 60% of the total population). Spanish is the home language of approximately 80% of the students, though the school serves students from a total of twenty-three different home language backgrounds. Over 90% of the student population qualifies for free or reduced lunch. Despite challenges facing the community at large, Meadow Homes is a thriving, resource-rich, culturally vibrant, community safe-haven.

Meadow Homes is one of ten Turnaround Arts schools in California. An initiative of the President’s Committee on the Arts and Humanities (PCAH), Turnaround Arts is a public-private partnership that uses the arts to help narrow the achievement gap, increase student engagement and enhance the culture and climate in schools. Through arts centered school reform, Meadow Homes Elementary seeks to boost academic achievement and increase student motivation. Students at Meadow Homes receive visual and performing arts instruction at specific, designated times as well as integrated into their classroom curriculum. They also have opportunities to work with teaching artists and local arts organizations, and have been adopted by celebrity artists including singer Marc Anthony and mezzosoprano Carla Dirlikov.

The bilingual program at Meadow Homes follows a Developmental Bilingual Program using a 50:50 model with transference lessons from TK through second grade. Currently, third through fifth grade classes follow the district’s Primary Language Literacy (PLL) program in which students’ home language is used to support student learning. Each year another grade takes on the 50:50 model used in the lower grades. Next year, third grade will move to the 50:50 model, 4 th grade will follow the year after that, and so on.

One of the goals at Meadow Homes is to make sure that the English Learners become proficient in English before they leave for middle school. Significant progress has been made toward this goal. In 2013-2014, Meadow Homes reclassified 85 students. In 2014-2015 that number increased to 133 Reclassified students. These numbers bolster the belief that Meadow Homes is providing students with rigorous ELD instruction and significant language supports.

In addition to rigorous academics, Meadow Homes also delivers school-home-community participation and collaboration. Meadow Homes invites the community and parents to participate in many events including: • Weekly Pláticas Meetings • On-site Parent Meetings by the District Community Liaison • On-site Parenting Classes through STAND! • On-site Adult Literacy Classes • Art & Literacy Backpack Project 10 • Art Nights (i.e. Día De Los Muertos Altar Event, crafts, movies, International Flag Project) • Mural Project • School Musical • Turnaround Artist Luncheons with Carla Dirlikov, mezzosoprano; • Spring Carnival • School Site Council • PTA Officer Meetings • ELAC Steering Committee Meetings and ELAC/PTA General Meetings.

Meadow Homes owes its significant success with English Language Development to a number of different factors, including hands-on learning; structured ELD and bilingual programs; a newcomer program; EL targeted curricula; rich professional development; extensive parent involvement; significant social-emotional support; and rigorous standards-based instruction. Meadow Homes provides a quality instructional program that embraces bilingualism as an advantage. Administrators, teachers, parents, and community members are unified and integrate all the school resources that make bilingualism a reality on their campus.

CABE is proud to award the CABE 2016 Seal of Excellence Award to Walnut Elementary School. Walnut Elementary School is one of thirteen elementary schools in the Baldwin Park Unified School District and is also one of five elementary schools in the district to offer the Dual Language Immersion (DL) Program. Dual Language students may continue their journey of bilingualism and biliteracy study into the middle school and high school in this proactive district. Walnut Elementary offers a variety of academic programs to meet the diverse needs of their school community. One third of Walnut School students are enrolled in the 90:10 Dual Language Program. Of the two-thirds enrollment receiving English instruction, 35% are English Learners (EL) receiving instruction through Structured English Immersion. In addition, Walnut offers a Gifted and Talented (GATE) program in third through fifth grades of which 43% are DL students. Special Education services comprise 12% of the school population and 10% of them are also enrolled in the DL program.

The Walnut DL program goals are three-fold: (1) to offer a high quality bilingual program; (2) expose students to a culturally diverse learning environment; and (3) for all students to be grade level proficient or above in English and Spanish upon completion of fifth grade. DL classrooms have purposeful enrollment of 50% EL students and 50% English only (EO) students. Teachers deliver monolingual content based instruction in the target language according to the 90:10 model. Student data confirms the success of the DL program. In the Spring of 2015, Walnut scored as one of the top four schools in the district on the Smarter Balanced Assessment (SBAC) and above the State of California percent of students who met or exceeded standards in third grade Math, fourth and fifth grade English Language Arts. When the data was disaggregated, the Walnut DL students scored equal or higher than students who had received English only instruction. Reclassification rates have also risen. Over the past six years, close to 100% of the EL students who have received DL instruction for more than five years have been reclassified as English proficient according to CELDT data. Spanish achievement is monitored through local assessments and the Accelerated Reader (AR) STAR program in Spanish. Teachers give weekly Spanish reading fluency, comprehension, and writing assessments to drive instruction and analyze student growth.

Professional development has been a hallmark of the Walnut program. All teachers have been trained in Thinking Maps; Guided Language Acquisition Design (GLAD); the four C’s - communication, collaboration, critical thinking, and creativity; Depth of Knowledge and Bloom’s Taxonomy levels. In addition, classroom management techniques are used school-wide. Cultural awareness is a highlight of the Walnut program culminating with events that celebrate the students’ cultural learning.

Parents are involved at Walnut through committees including School Site Council and English Language Advisory Committee. In addition, parent workshops are held weekly on topics including: Helping your child with homework, reading and math skills, internet safety, and understanding state testing.

Interviews with Parents, Students and Teachers all used the same word to describe how the program works at Walnut – FAMILY!

CABE 2016 ADMINISTRATOR OF THE YEAR

María Gutiérrez-García
Principal, Finley Elementary School
Westminster School District

María Gutiérrez-García has spent the last 34 years advocating for English Learners and their families. Currently she is principal of Finley Elementary School in the Westminster School District where she has worked tirelessly for the last nine years to implement the Guided Language Acquisition Design model school-wide. In close collaboration with the Orange County Department of Education, Finley has hosted multiple Tier I and Tier II week long training sessions for certification. In 2013, María Gutiérrez-García was awarded the Orange County Department of Education English Learner Success Award in recognition of the continued increased academic achievement for English Learners.

Prior to joining the Westminster School District, Gutiérrez-Garcia worked in various positions in the Santa Ana Unified School District including Principal at Wallace R. Davis Elementary School. While at Davis Elementary the school was awarded the CABE SEAL of Excellence Award. During her distinguished career, she has received many other awards including middle school teacher of the year and elementary Bilingual teacher of the year.

María Gutiérrez-García has held a variety of positions including District Curriculum Specialist for English Language Development and Spanish Language Arts Curriculum Specialist for Santa Ana USD. While completing a Master’s Degree in Spanish from the University of Southern California, she was an Assistant Lecturer in the Department of Spanish and Portuguese and led a study abroad session in Madrid, Spain. She completed her undergraduate course work at the University of California, Irvine.

In recommending Gutiérrez-Garcia, Nicole Chávez from the Orange County Department of Education shares, “María’s sophisticated grasp of vision, cultural proficiency, and the endless impacts of being biliterate, has dramatically shifted the perspectives of her staff and parents. Educators view and value multiple languages as an asset, families feel empowered to be involved in their children’s academic careers, and language is seen as a vehicle for identity, culture and understanding”…“I can say with the utmost confidence that María is one of the strongest advocates for students and biliteracy that I have had the chance to interact.”

CABE is proud to award María Gutiérrez-Garcia the CABE 2016 Administrator of the Year!
CABE 2016 TEACHER OF THE YEAR

Cynthia Alicia Meza
Leonard R. Flynn School
San Francisco Unified School District

Cynthia Alicia Meza is an experienced bilingual multicultural social justice educator who excels at inspiring young minds to become empathetic critical thinkers that see themselves as responsible worldly citizens, stewards of mother earth, and agents of social change. Amongst peers she excels at consensus building, strategic decisionmaking, relationship and community building, and takes pride in inspiring other educators to become more culturally competent and socially conscious in serving diverse communities.

Cynthia is a Spanish bilingual/immersion teacher at Leonard R. Flynn School in San Francisco’s historically Latino Mission District. For 12 years she has worked diligently with a diverse population of Flynn students and families to create a classroom environment that promotes pride and inclusivity of all learners. She provides an environment in which multi-language learners can engage in academic discourse across content areas and languages. As a social justice educator she has worked to create a culture of learning that inspires inquiry, exploration, engineering, scientific thinking and discourse, and integrates exploration and discussion of world and local issues relevant to students.

Hoping to inspire more science teaching in the district, especially for schools serving communities of color, Cynthia has led science professional development with an emphasis on integrating ELD strategies. She has mentored new teachers in the ELLISA Project (English, Language and Literacy Integration into Subject Areas), through San Francisco State’s Department of Education. As the current president of San Francisco’s LATA (Latin American Teacher’s Association), Cynthia is working with SFABE (San Francisco Association for Bilingual Education) to increase sponsorship of LATA’s College Scholarship fund.

She is a proud mother of four beautiful children working closely with her community organizer husband and compañero, Oscar Grande, to create a healthy, loving, nurturing environment where each child thrives and develops consciously, academically, socially and emotionally.

In recommending Cynthia Meza, Ricky Mendoza, Principal of Flynn, states, “Students are offered many opportunities to critically and respectfully engage in academic conversations in both languages and within all content areas. Classroom projects integrate bilingualism and are connected to the greater community. She builds lasting relationships with parents…is also active in the Latino community.” “I believe there will be few candidates more qualified for this honor than Ms. Meza.”

CABE is proud to award
Cynthia Alicia Meza the CABE 2016 Teacher of the Year!
CABE 2016 PARENT OF THE YEAR

María Guadalupe Ocegueda
Tamarisk Elementary School
Palmdale School District

María Guadalupe (Lupita) Ocegueda is the embodiment of parent involvement. She holds a bachelor’s degree in computer science and has been teaching weekly computer classes for parents throughout the Palmdale School District for the past few years. In addition, she teaches ESL classes and currently is co-teaching a Spanish class for second graders at Tamarisk. She is a leader in the Parenting Partners program which empowers parents to become involved not just in their children’s schools, but in the community as a whole. Lupita has served as the Tamarisk ELAC President in the past and this year is the Tamarisk ELAC DELAC representative. In addition, she serves as a parent member of the Tamarisk School Site Council and Vice President of Membership for PTA. She is also the Vice President of the Palmdale School District DELAC. She volunteers at extra-curricular events such as Fall Festival, Holiday Performance, movie nights, Red Ribbon Week, etc. to ensure they are a success for the students and parents.

Maria Yerania Vargo, Tamarisk Elementary Teacher, shares, “Mrs. Ocegueda is the embodiment of parent involvement. I admire her and have honestly learned the meaning of giving back with asking for nothing in return. She is the heart of Tamarisk. We could not be any more proud of her. I take pride in calling Mrs. Ocegueda my friend.”

According to Tamarisk Principal, Martin Herrera, “She is dependable, trustworthy, and has an enviable work ethic.” “It is an honor and privilege to witness her extraordinary qualities at work.”

CABE is proud to award
María Guadalupe Ocegueda the CABE 2016 Parent of the Year!
Jessica Albornoz is the Parent/Community Liaison at Golden Poppy Elementary School, a challenging but very rewarding position. Jessica considers it a privilege and a joy to be of service to the Golden Poppy community.

Jessica believes that bilingual education is imperative in a diverse community. She states that it is through the channels of education that one is able to reach out to various members of the school community. There are no boundaries. There are no limits as to what can be done together to make an impact at our school and in our community. The cliché, “Knowledge is Power” sums up her personal beliefs. She believes that a unified, collaborative, and helpful group of teachers and parents can and will make a difference if their motives are sincere. Her motto is “Learn as much as you can, teach as much as you can.” Jessica has had the pleasure of working with English Learners for five years. Most of her life she grew up translating for family members and friends. During her high school years she scored a perfect score on her Spanish SATs. This confirmed for her that her bilingual skills would serve her well throughout her life. She considers having a proficient knowledge of two languages a bonus and an asset that she is able to use wherever she goes.

Always involved, Jessica was a former ELAC President for Joshua Hills School. During her term at Joshua Hills she was an advocate for dual language programs. She also served as a PTA President for Joshua Hills. She is currently PTA Historian for Golden Poppy school. She believes that the highest form of service is to help, lead, and to empower others to pursue their goals. She realizes that the power of her words can make a huge impact on the people who cross her path at home, at work, and at school.

As a member of CABE Chapter 58, Jessica has attended various mini-CABE Conferences. She also attended the Ontario Regional Conference in 2013. She has benefited greatly from attending the workshops and always returned to school with tools and resources that she was able to share with Golden Poppy parents.

In recommending Jessica, Sandra Salas-Rodríguez, Learning Support Teacher at Golden Poppy School, states, “She supports parents by providing ESL classes and leads ELAC meetings. She serves as a translator to help support parent-teacher relationships and bridges the communication gap between school and community. She is the bridge between parents, students and staff.” “She makes Golden Poppy a wonderful place to be for students, staff and parents.”

CABE is proud to award
Jessica Albornoz the CABE 2016 Para Educator of the Year!
Why it’s important for my family and for me to be bilingual, now and in the future?

My name is Sofia Grace Ward. My dad is from the USA and speaks English. My mom is from Spain and speaks Spanish. For me it is important to be bilingual because I can communicate with both families. If you are bilingual you can travel to a country and speak the language of that country and meet the people.

I have many friends in Spain and here in the USA. I know and collect jokes in both languages. I enjoy laughter and making my friends laugh. Since I am bilingual, I also enjoy reading, singing and dancing in English or in Spanish. I go to a school where I have many friends from Colombia, Argentina, Mexico, Cuba, Uruguay, Peru and El Salvador where they also speak in Spanish. These countries have some national dishes that I have never tasted, like “pupusas” from El Salvador that according to my friends are yummy!

When I become an adult I am going to visit those countries and taste their national foods, I’ll learn their songs, dances and culture. My cousins know a lot about other countries but Pablo only speaks Spanish and Kaitlin only speaks English. If one day they decide to travel they couldn’t communicate with the people. They might need my services as a translator! I am also learning Chinese because I would like to travel to China; I love the Chow Fun and the Dragon Dance.

Lastly, it is important for me to be bilingual now and for my future so that I have the opportunity to find interesting jobs such as teaching Spanish to students like me, or maybe a job as Santa Claus’ elf because as such you’ll need to understand what children from all over the world want for Christmas. Maybe one day, just because I am bilingual and I have an open mind, I might become the president of my country; in this way there would be no more wars.

For all of these reasons it is really important for my family and for me to be bilingual now and in the future.

¿Por qué el ser bilingüe es bueno para mi y mi familia hoy y en futuro?

Yo me llamo Sofía Grace Ward. Mi papá es de Estados Unidos y habla inglés. Mi mamá es de España y habla español. Para mí es importante ser bilingüe porque puedo hablar con la familia de mi papá y la familia de mi mamá. Si eres bilingüe puedes viajar a otros países y hablar ese idioma, y si hablas ese idioma puedes conocer a más amigos hablando como ellos hablan.

Yo tengo muchos amigos en España y en los Estados Unidos. Por eso sé muchos chistes en inglés y en español. A mí me gusta mucho reírme y por eso me gusta saber todos los chistes que pueda. También como soy bilingüe puedo disfrutar de leer más libros y cantar y bailar más canciones en español y en inglés. Yo voy a una escuela donde tengo amigos de otros países donde se habla español como Colombia, Argentina, México, Cuba, Uruguay, Perú y El Salvador y ellos comen unas comidas que yo no conozco, como pupusas de El Salvador y yo las quiero probar porque me dicen que están muy ricas.

Cuando sea mayor yo quiero viajar a estos países y probar toda la comida y también quiero cantar las canciones de estos países y aprender sus bailes. Mis primos también saben de muchos países pero no hablan el idioma de esos países, como mi primo Pablo que solo habla español y mi prima Kaitlin que solo habla inglés. Entonces ellos no se pueden comunicar y un día yo voy a tener que ser su traductora. Yo también estoy aprendiendo Chino, porque quiero poder comunicarme con las personas que viven en China y me gusta mucho el Chow Fan y la Danza del Dragón.

Por último, es importante para mí ser bilingüe en el futuro porque puedo tener más trabajos muy interesantes, como profesora de niños que quieran saber otro idioma, elfo de Santa Claus porque tienes que entender lo que quieren los niños de todos los países, y tal vez pueda ser hasta presidente de mi país porque como soy bilingüe podré entender a otras países y así que no habrán más guerras.

Por todo esto ser bilingüe es mi bueno para mi familia, para este mundo y para mí, hoy y en el futuro.
Once upon a time, there was a little boy named Antonio. Antonio was born in the U.S. but his family was from Nicaragua. Antonio didn’t know how to speak Spanish. One summer, he went to Nicaragua for the first time. When he got off the airplane, he noticed that everyone was talking weird. He didn’t understand what they were saying. He thought they were saying, “blacuzaifi.” Antonio felt nervous and worried.

Later, he went to his grandma’s house and his grandma told him to play with the other kids from the neighborhood, but Antonio didn’t understand them. He did not play with them. He felt lonely because he couldn’t make any friends.

Next, his great grandma came to visit. Antonio couldn’t have a relationship with her because he didn’t understand her. He felt very frustrated during the whole vacation.

When he went back to the U.S. he made a goal for himself to learn Spanish, so he joined a Spanish school. He practiced and practiced until he learned to speak Spanish.

The next year, Antonio went back to Nicaragua. He stepped off the plane and he could understand what people were saying, like –Hola. Buenos días. The voices no longer sounded weird. They sounded familiar.

When he went to his grandma’s house he made new friends. Their names were Carlos, Juan, Pedrito and Dieguito. They played games like Monopoly, War, Uno and other things.

He went to his great-grandma’s house and he understood her when she said, -Que guapo que estás!- They were able to have a loving relationship.

During the same trip, his cousin Jared from the U.S visited him in Nicaragua. Jared didn’t speak Spanish. Antonio translated the words that people said so that Jared could understand.

Antonio felt very happy. He learned an important lesson. He learned that it is important to speak more than one language because it helps you make friends, it helps you understand what other people are saying, and it lets you have a relationship with your great-grandma. It also helps you translate for people who don’t speak Spanish. Every summer, Antonio goes to Nicaragua and he always has a good time.
Why being bilingual and biliterate is important to my family and I, now and in the future

“To have another language is to possess a second soul.” I have heard this quote many times and it is constantly pushing me to learn a second language. My first language is English, but over half of my community speaks Spanish as their first language. So in order to socialize with those people it is important for my family and I to be bilingual and biliterate, now, and in the future.

It is important for my family to be bilingual and biliterate now because every year I visit my grandparents in Mexico at their retirement home. Truthfully speaking, none of my family is completely bilingual or biliterate, but the important thing is that we are learning, and so far that has helped a lot. Even knowing the smallest amount of Spanish has made it easy to ask for directions, get help, and communicate with a new culture and community.

When I think about where I’m going to be fifteen years from now I see myself just graduating from law school and starting my career as a lawyer. But being a lawyer is going to be a lot of hard work and I believe that having a second language would truly help me on my career path. If I continue learning Spanish I could represent people who speak English and Spanish which would not only make more job opportunities for me, but it would also give me the opportunity to help a larger variety of people.

I am proud to be learning a second language. And I know that being bilingual and biliterate will help me reach my goals and help make my family proud.

Porque ser bilingüe y bi-alfabetizado es importante para mi familia y yo, ahora y en el futuro

“Para tener otra lengua es poseer una segunda alma.” Yo he escuchado esta frase muchas veces y está constantemente presionando mi aprender un segundo idioma. Mi primer idioma es el inglés, pero más del cincuenta por ciento de mi comunidad habla español como su primera lengua. Con el fin de socializar con las personas es importante para mi familia y yo a ser bilingües y alfabetizados ahora y en el futuro.

Es importante para mi familia a ser bilingües y alfabetizados ahora porque cada año mi familia visita a mis abuelos en México en su casa de retiro. Sinceramente hablando, ninguno de mi familia es totalmente bilingüe o alfabetizado, pero lo importante es que estamos aprendiendo, y hasta ahora ha ayudado mucho. Aun sabiendo la cantidad más pequeña de español ha hecho fácil pedir direcciones, conseguir ayuda, y comunica con una nueva cultura y comunidad.

Cuando yo pienso en donde voy a estar en quince años, me veo como una graduada de la Facultad del Derecho y comenzar mi carrera como abogada. Pero ser que una abogada va a ser un montón de trabajo duro y creo que tener un segundo idioma realmente me ayudaría en mi camino. Si sigo aprendiendo español podría representar a personas que hablan inglés y español que no sólo tendría más oportunidades de trabajo para mí, pero también me daría la oportunidad de ayudar a una mayor variedad de personas.

Estoy orgulloso de aprender un segundo idioma. Y sé que ser bilingüe y bi-alfabetizado me ayudará a alcanzar mis metas y ayudar a que mi familia tiene orgullo.
The Languages of the Heart

Why do we have to be quiet now? Why do we have to pretend to be who we are not? Why can’t we unite ourselves as humans and open the doors of our hearts to believe that this nation is a strong nation that has many voices? Let us stop judging one another. Let us think with our hearts. Let us use language as a tool to transmit a message of unity. I am Latina, and I am the voice of the immigrant. I am a student, and I am part for the fight for our voices. We are human, and we are trying to make changes in our lives. We don’t need a passport or a document to demonstrate who we are; rather, we need our roots, culture, hearts, open minds and languages. We are bilingual, and we must talk from the depths of our hearts to implement our ideas and take action. When I arrived in this country, I began to reflect and remember more than ever what things changed in my life, and caused me to make this grand move. Where would we be if we did not take risks, if we were not valiant, and if we did not construct our own roads?

Language is the tool of both the heart and the mind. I remember when I lived in Mexico. It was late in the day, and my mother and I went on a walk together, she, with her right hand on a cane, and her left hand on my arm. Her sickness was escalating. For her, walking became more and more difficult. She had learned to depend on her cane and me. My mother also had problems with diction, but even when I could not understand her words, I understood her heart. To see my family try to triumph makes me feel proud. For all the inspiration they have given me to take action now, I will be able to give back to them in the future.

I am in a new country now, and I am becoming bilingual. My dream is to walk with my mother again, and just as she used my arm to steady her pace, I hope she will humbly accept my bilingual voice to speak for her. We will walk again towards the small village, and together, we will fight for the return of our voices. I want to be part of a bilingual community. To become bilingual will help me inspire and create hope for all the students who are immigrants. They will not be left alone, and their voices will be heard.

What is so amazing about being human is the capacity to think and share our thoughts without fear. We cannot live with the illusion that this country will change us; rather, we must change the country. We must become bilingual so our voices will be heard. We are fighters, and we can use our two languages as arms.

My mother can no longer talk, and she struggles to even walk. But, I have a voice, and she gave me that voice. Now, I am developing two voices, bilingual voices; these voices will share with others what my mother so generously and humbly gave to me, the language of the heart, and the language of hope.
Los idiomas del corazón

Por qué debemos callar ahora? Por qué tenemos que pretender ser algo que no somos? Por qué no podemos unirnos como humanos y abrir las puertas de nuestros corazones para creer que esta nación, es una fuerte nación que tiene muchas voces. Déjenos de juzgar unos a los otros. Déjenos pensar con nuestros corazones. Déjenos usar el idioma como una herramienta para transmitir un mensaje de unión. Yo soy Latina, y soy la voz del inmigrante. Soy una estudiante, y soy parte de la lucha por nuestras voces. Somos humanos, y estamos tratando de hacer cambios en nuestras vidas. No dependemos de un pasaporte o de ningún documento para demostrar quienes somos. Más bien, lo que necesitamos son nuestras raíces, culturas, corazones, mentes abiertas e idiomas. Somos bilingües, y debemos de hablar desde el fondo de nuestros corazones para implementar nuestras ideas y tomar acción. Cuando llegué a este país, comencé a reflexionar y recordar más que nunca qué cosas cambiaron en mi vida, que me causan hacer este gran movimiento. En dónde estaríamos si no tomamos los riesgos, si no fuéramos valientes, y si no construyamos nuestros propios caminos?

El idioma es la herramienta de ambos, el corazón y la mente. Recuerdo cuando vivía en México. Era tarde en el día, y mi madre y yo íbamos a caminar juntas, ella, con su mano derecha en un bastón, y su mano izquierda en mi brazo. Su enfermedad estaba aumentando. Para ella, caminar se volvió más y más difícil. Había aprendido a depender de su bastón y de mí. Mi madre también tenía problemas con dicción, pero incluso cuando yo no podía entender sus palabras, entendía su corazón. Ver a mi familia tratar de triunfar me hace sentir orgullosa. Por toda la inspiración que me han dado para tomar acción ahora, seré capaz de dar de nuevo a ellos en un futuro.

Ahora estoy en un nuevo país, y me estoy convirtiendo en bilingüe. Mi sueño es caminar con mi madre otra vez, y al igual que ella usó mi brazo para sostener su ritmo, espero que ella acepte humildemente mi voz bilingüe hablar por ella. Caminaremos de nuevo a través del pueblo pequeño y juntos lucharemos por el regreso de nuestras voces. Quiero ser parte de una comunidad bilingüe. Llegar a ser bilingüe me ayudará a inspirar y crear esperanza en todos los estudiantes que son inmigrantes. No estarán solos, y sus voces serán escuchadas.

Lo que es tan sorprendente de los seres humanos, es la capacidad de pensar y compartir nuestros pensamientos con otros sin miedo. No podemos vivir con la ilusión de que este país nos cambiará a nosotros; más bien, nosotros deberíamos cambiar este país. Somos luchadores y podemos usar nuestros dos idiomas como brazos.

Introducing California Maravillas

A parallel, equitable, Spanish literacy program for developing students who are bilingual, biliterate and bicultural

Discover the Power of Biliteracy with:

- Rich, authentic Spanish literature, featuring classic and contemporary selections from around the globe
- The Think Smart for Smarter Balanced assessment system offering fully integrated assessments, built on the same question types and format as the Smarter Balanced assessment
- Proven, research-based strategies for helping students acquire a second language, while attaining the rigor of the Common Core
- Integration of the curriculum across disciplines

Comprehensive, parallel print and digital

Because learning changes everything.™
