Debunking SoR Neuroscience Claims

with Dr. Steven Strauss, MD & PhD

Wednesday, April 24th at 4pm PST/7pm EST

Join Us for an Enlightening Session!

Overview

“The Science of Reading” is a critical issue for CABE as it negatively impacts our English Learners/Emergent Bilingual Learners in education. Recent legislation has brought its methods and claims into question.

Our upcoming webinar will explore these controversies and shed light on the myths and realities of SoR regarding their faulty neuroscience and linguistic claims.

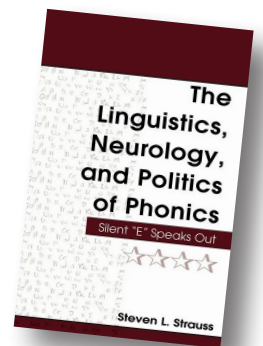

Dr. Steven Strauss, an MD in Neurology and PhD in Linguistics will share his critical analysis of the false neuroscience and linguistic claims promoted by the Science of Reading. Insights from experts in neuroscience, linguistics and biliteracy are the focus of this Webinar.

Who Should Attend

Educators, Policymakers, Curriculum Developers, Administrators, and Anyone interested in the latest educational research and methodologies regarding the teaching/learning of Reading, especially for English Learners.
