

English Learner Academic Progress Toward Reclassification

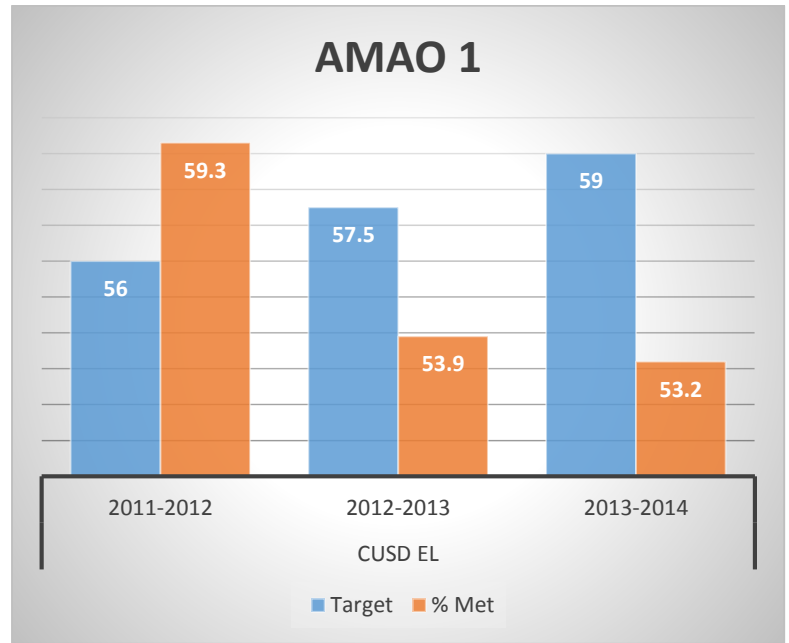

The district has exceeded the state's reclassification rate for the last two years. CUSD nearly doubled the state's rate in 2012 and scored nearly 25% higher in 2013.

For the last three years, fewer CUSD ELs have scored Early Advanced or better on the CELDT while the state averages have been relatively consistent.

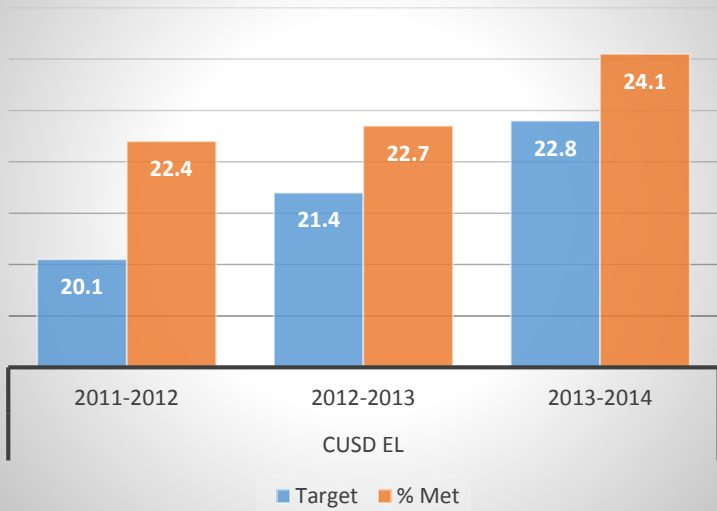

Over the last three years, the district LTEL population has decreased 3 points.

The district has not met AMAO 1 for the last two years. As the targets increase, the percentage of students meeting AMAO 1 is decreasing.

AMAO 2 (<5 years)

For the last three years, CUSD ELs who have been in the US for fewer than 5 years have met the state targets for AMAO 2.

However, not only have CUSD ELs who have been in the US for more than 5 years not been able to meet the increasing targets, but their scores are falling in general, with nearly a 33% drop in 2014.
